RESCUE TEAM NEARS MINER TRAPPED ALONE

TIMMINS, Ont. (UPI).—Rescue workers today broke through a hole in the rock and moved into the stope where a 27-year-old British immigrant, Alan Rose, has been trapped 1,700 feet underground and unable to move for the past 44 hours following a gold mine cave-in. Rose has received no food and water. He is believed to be within 100 feet of the break-through hole. The young miner spoke through a tiny air hole to his rescuers at 9 a.m. (EST) today.

Bullet Parts Hunter's Hair

By DON INGHAM

A high-powered rifle bullet fired by a hunter in the Sooke district Saturday put two holes in a hard hat worn by Sooke logger Tom Nelson, parted his hair slightly, and ruined his digestion for most of the day.

"I'm still all tightened up," he said a few hours after the incident. "I guess it was an accident. I don't have any enemies that I know of."

The incident occurred at about 10:30 a.m. in the vicinity of Elder Logging operations. "I found a deer run, then sat down and lit a cigarette," said Nelson, 51-year-old boom man for Moore-Whittington Ltd. and resident at 22 Maple Avenue in Sooke.

"I had a couple of puffs, and as I lifted my hand for another, my hard hat fell into my lap and I heard the crack of a rifle."

"Before my hat stopped rolling I was on my feet and swinging my rifle."

They were in addition to $5,855,795,405 in estimates already approved for the current fiscal year ending March 31, boosting the year's forecast spending to an all-time high of $5,910,019,323.

Arena Manager Resigns; Board Member Walks Out

3-Month Delay Angers Haddock

By JOHN MIKA

A Memorial Arena commission meeting this morning was shattered by two resignations — by manager Joe Dukowski and by commission member Courtney Haddock.

A cryptic statement released by commission chairman F. G. Mulliner after the meeting did not say whether or not Mr. Dukowski's resignation had been accepted.

Mr. Haddock, serving his second term on the commission, walked out of the meeting about 20 minutes after it started at 9 a.m.

to the next meeting of city council," he said. "I don't agree with the commission's philosophy at all."

Mr. Haddock said he was resigning in protest against a qualification in Mr. Dukowski's resignation which would allow him to remain for three months.

Mr. Dukowski could not be reached for comment.

Full Statement Being Prepared

Mr. Mulliner declined to elaborate on the commission's initial statement. He said a "full statement is in process of being prepared and will be released at a later time."

Mayor Percy Scourrah said he had no comment because the incident was an "internal matter" for the commission. City council's arena sub-committee chairman Ald. Hugh Ramsay said he could not comment until he knew some details behind the events. He added he could not understand why the arena commission had not kept the committee informed.

October—touching off a controversy that created debate, but no action, in city council. Mr. Haddock said Mr. Dukowski was "given the opportunity of resigning" when the meeting opened. He said Mr. Dukowski tendered his resignation effective three months from now and the commission accepted.

"I think that's all wrong because so long as he is there it means the other six can't come back to their jobs. They have been good employees. Dukowski is going anyway so why prevent them from getting their jobs back."

"I'd rather see Mr. Dukowski paid for three or even six months but let go now."

"I'm certainly disappointed with the other commissioners. But then I've been fighting a lone battle on this from the start."

Ex-Employees To Be Considered

Mr. Haddock declined to make any comment on the subject matter of the hearing.

Mr. Mulliner said the rest of the commission—W. F. Pinfold, W. D. Osborn and G. L. Warren, with F. L. Shaw as a non-voting "adviser"—had shown no indication of resigning.

A commission's statement released by Mr. Mulliner implied that Mr. Dukowski tendered his resignation before the hearing. It said:

"Resulting from the resignations submitted by the six permanent and casual employees of the Victoria Memorial Arena and subsequent thereto the resignation of the arena's manager, Mr. Dukowski, a thorough examination was made by the commissioners of the contributing circumstances."

"In this connection the individual statements were reviewed following which it was concluded that such restaffing arrangements found necessary be undertaken forthwith. The considerations are not to be limited so as to prohibit the application of those that have resigned."

The last paragraph meant that the six former employees would be considered along with all other applicants for their jobs, said Mr. Mulliner.

Throughout the controversy the commission officially has maintained that the problem was only a "clash of personalities."

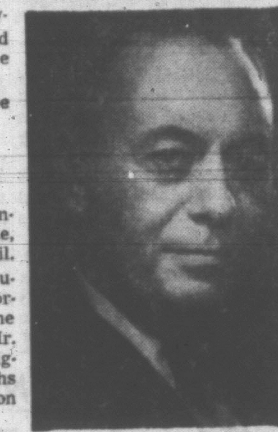

Mayor Scourrah said he had no comment to make on the resignations.

"I have maintained all along that it is entirely the commission's business. I still feel it's council's job only to hold the commission responsible for results, not interfere in an internal matter."

MOSCOW (UPI).—The Soviet Union today ordered assistant U.S. embassy air attaché Irving T. McDonald expelled from the country on charges of "activities incompatible with his diplomatic status."

25 Die in Flood

AMMAN (AP).—Floods sweeping Jordan after 36 hours of heavy rain have drowned at least 25 persons, the interior ministry said Sunday.

CAR PLUNGE IN LAKE KILLS FAMILY OF 7

EUGENE, Ore. (CP).—A car plunged off a rain-swept highway Sunday into Dexter Lake and a man and his pregnant wife and their five children drowned, state police said today.

Skidlers found the car with four bodies inside. The car was dragged from the lake and those inside identified as Howard E. Lemons, 39; his wife, Gloria, 35; and two of their children, Virginia, 7, and Michael, 5.

Searchers later found the body of another child, Howard Jr., 6. Police said the other Lemons children who drowned were Robin Ann, 8, and John, 16 months. Their bodies were not recovered immediately.

'IKE NOT REPUDIATED'

Johnson Backs NATO Policies

PARIS (AP).—Vice-President-elect Lyndon Johnson told legislators from Atlantic Alliance countries today that the United States stands by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies.

Johnson said the U.S. election in no way was "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

The tall Texas senator was applauded as he strode into the assembly room of the parliamentary conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. His speech drew cheers from the legislators drawn from all over Western Europe and Canada.

French Premier Michel Debre, who spoke just before Johnson, disclaimed any attempt on the part of President de Gaulle to weaken NATO. On the contrary, Debre said, it was de Gaulle's idea to strengthen NATO by increasing the French "weight" in the organization.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, called for a NATO pool of atomic weapons giving all members essentially an equal voice in control.

The NATO commander also urged that medium-range ballistic missiles, both land and sea-based, be made available to NATO as part of a modernization program.

GALE WINDS FORECAST TONIGHT

Gale winds of up to 35 miles per hour will hit Victoria tonight with the approach of a new and active storm from the Pacific, weatherman William Mackie predicted today. "It was at the weather shop this morning," he said. "The bottom fell out of the barometer. Winds were up to 68 miles per hour."

Cloud will thicken tonight; rain will follow. Temperatures, which dropped low enough at high levels Sunday to give a dusting of snow on the Malahat and Sooke hills, will remain between 40 and 48 degrees tonight and Tuesday.

First Storm Of Winter Lashes B.C.

(Times News Services)

British Columbia and the U.S. northwest were recovering today from the effects of the season's first winter storm.

Many centres were covered in snow, while north-central B.C. was whipped by record winds.

Four persons are dead in B.C. as a direct result of the storm and two more are missing.

Two hunters were drowned when their boats capsized in storm-tossed waters and two others were killed when a tree was uprooted and crushed their station wagon.

A third pair is missing on a hunting expedition and believed drowned.

The dead:

John Taylor, 48, of suburban North Vancouver, washed off his overturned boat on Harrison Lake, 30 miles east of here, by a huge wave after his companion, Ronald Neff, 20, of Vancouver, held him up for three hours.

George M. Dibble, 32, drowned in Tofino Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island on a goose hunting trip when his car-top boat was swamped. (See story Page 9.)

FATHER, SON DIE

Charles Fletcher, and his son Allan, 13, of nearby Richmond, killed when a tree measuring four feet at the butt was blown down on their car on the Squamish Highway near here. The driver of the car, John Klassen of Vancouver, was injured.

Missing are Bernard Stanley Eingley, 49, and his son Bernard, 23, both of Vancouver, whose 10-foot punt used for duck hunting has been recovered in nearby Steveston. A smaller punt they had with them has not been found and a full-scale search for the pair was started Sunday.

The Hope-Princeton Highway, 100 miles east of Vancouver, was deep in snow. Transports took five hours to grind along the mountainous

ARRIVE TUESDAY FOR TRAINING

No Fanfare for Eskimos

Western Canada's football champions, the Edmonton Eskimos, arrive in Victoria Tuesday afternoon for five training sessions before meeting Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday in the Grey Cup classic at Vancouver.

It appeared they would have a quiet reception from the city, in contrast to the enthusiastic greeting they were given in 1955 when they came here for training before whipping Montreal Alouettes in Vancouver.

The Eskimos — almost the same team that was here five years ago — will arrive at Patricia Bay airport at 2 p.m. Tuesday aboard a chartered airliner.

They will go immediately to the Empress Hotel and change into football gear for their first practice session at MacDonald Park, on Simcoe between Oswego and Montreal. It is understood that most of their workouts will be open to the public.

City parks administrator W. H. Warren, who wired the team an invitation to use MacDonald Park, said he was told there would be morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday and Thursday, before the WIFU champions leave for their date in Empire Stadium.

Last time the team was here it was greeted at the airport by a cheering crowd of about 3,000 Victorians and the city took the team to its heart immediately.

Training sessions in Royal Athletic Park were attended by thousands. The team was treated to free golf, fishing trips, tours and a tour of HMCS Crescent.

This time, some team members will be invited to the "Little Grey Cup" game Wednesday at 8 p.m. when the Victoria All-Stars and Winnipeg Rams meet in Royal Athletic Park for the Canadian juvenile football championship. But no immediate plans were made at City Hall for an organized reception.

Some hunters w'd shoot at th' horns of a dilemma.
Minds, purses an' schools hev' t' be opened in that order.

Wonder if thet arena roof wuz double-barrelled?

Today's Traffic Trouble Tip

BOTH HAVE RIGHTS

By AB KENT

The traffic light turns green, but who has right of way—straight-through or left turning traffic?

This is a recurring problem for many drivers, given the choice of holding up other cars while they yield to oncoming traffic, or take a chance on a smashup by "bullying through."

The question is sent in by R. C. Cleland, 2828 Bridge, and the problem is illustrated.

Car "A" wants to turn left. Should he hold up his own line while the opposing line headed by "B" clears the intersection, or dash out in front of "B" as soon as the light turns green, risking collision?

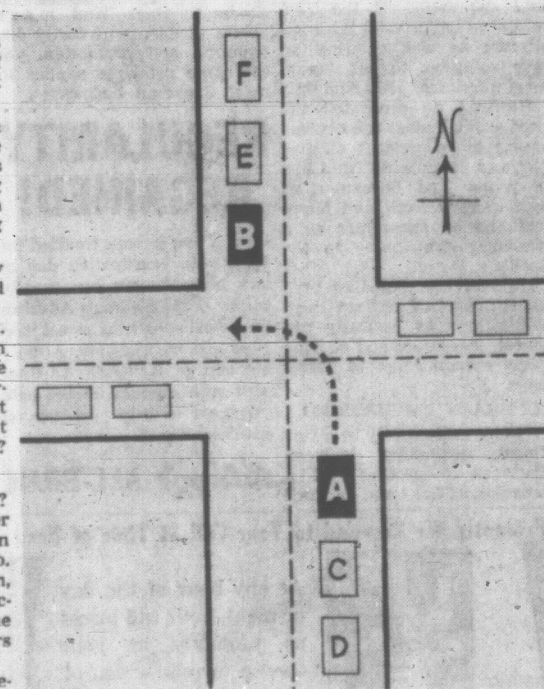

COMMON SENSE

Or should "B" yield to "A"? There is a simple answer that boils down to common sense, as most traffic laws do.

Car "A" signals his turn, moves slowly into the intersection and allows "B" and one or two other south-bound cars to get clear.

It is then the duty of subsequent cars headed south to allow "A" to make his turn if it can be done in safety. For once "A" is into the intersection and signalling his left turn, he has right of way over traffic approaching the intersection.

So if turns out both drivers have their rights and responsi-ilities, a good rule to remember.

To add to the situation from a pedestrian point of view, anyone walking north or south across the west arm of the intersection has precedence over turning road traffic.

The driver must use utmost caution when approaching a pedestrian crossing, but on the other hand, pedestrians should not take advantage of the driver. He should have a fair chance and not have to contend with people jumping suddenly off the curb.

YASSIADA ISLAND, Turkey — National Assembly President Refik Koraltan, 71, went on trial today on a charge of importing a blonde 25-year-old German beauty he had declared as "medical equipment."

Koraltan testified he imported medical equipment for his ailing wife and received government permission to do so.

Prosecutors in the case, one of a long series in the mass trial of top figures in the regime of deposed premier Adnan Menderes, accused Koraltan of requesting $500 in foreign exchange from the finance ministry to import medical equipment for his paralytic wife — and then arranging the "import" of Miss Barbara Kutze instead.

Former finance minister Hassan Polatkan is charged with aiding Koraltan.

Koraltan explained he was advised by his doctors to hire a nurse for his wife after first applying for permission to import medical splints.

ORMESBY, Eng. — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Page have bought the disused railway station in this Norfolk village. They plan to turn it into a summer home. Page has just retired after 45 years as a freight foreman and says he just can't get away from the railway.

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Mrs. Connie Page spent the equivalent of $12 today for a lamp post to make her dog happy again.

For years an old-fashioned lamp post stood just around the corner from Mrs. Page's home.

Her Alsatian, Rex, loved it. A couple of weeks ago the city engineers replaced the gas street lights with electric lamps. They dug up the post and installed a new white one made of concrete.

Rex became despondent and roamed apparently looking for one of the old-fashioned models without success.

Mrs. Page appealed to the city fathers and they sold her an old lamp post for £4 13s 6d on condition that she put it in her garden.

LONDON — Nikita Khrushchev today handed Finland's President Urho Kekkonen a box of Havana cigars when the visitor arrived in Moscow.

The Soviet news agency Tass quoted the Soviet leader as saying: "Availing myself of Fidel Castro's generosity, I am able to offer these to my Finnish friends."

LONDON — Britain's gypsies converged today in the little hamlet of Haselbury Plucknett for the funeral of Eliza Woods, the queen who has ruled them for 40 years. She died Saturday. Nobody knows for sure exactly how old Queen Eliza was. But members of her family say she was in her 90s.

Church Bars Negroes

SUMTER, S.C. (AP) — Four Negro students from Morris College were turned away by an usher Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in the first kneel-in attempt here. The students were stopped by police and questioned as they left the church. Rev. Cliff H. McLeod, pastor of the church, said he had no comment on the incident.

'CANADIANS BENEFIT FROM 'TIME'

Study, Don't Restrict U.S. Publications — Keate

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadian periodicals, instead of seeking restrictions on United States publications, might study them with profit and perhaps even accept some of their philosophies, a Victoria newspaper publisher said today.

"One of these (philosophies)," said Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Times, "is the Americans' willingness to take a chance on young men, in the belief that yeast and ferment are essential ingredients in the stirring-up of ideas."

Mr. Keate made the remarks in a personal presentation to the Royal Commission on publications in which he also defended Time Magazine and Reader's Digest, two of the United States publications towards which accusations of unfair foreign competition have been levelled by Canadian periodical publishers.

The Royal Commission, under Chairman M. Grattan O'Leary, president of the Ottawa Journal, is considering the present state and prospects of Canadian periodicals and is paying special attention to the question of foreign competition.

NO EASY SOLUTIONS

It began hearings last week in Ottawa, where it sat for five days, and opened a cross-country tour here today. Public hearings in Vancouver will continue through Wednesday with 14 groups or individuals expected to be heard.

Mr. Keate, in presenting the first submission at the Vancouver hearings, told the commission he was offering no easy solutions to the "vexatious questions" it is studying.

He said he presented the brief as a personal submission, basing his comments on five post-war years with Time Inc. as writer and bureau chief both in New York and Montreal and on experience as a free-lance contributor to the Reader's Digest.

He said the Canadian periodical press had accused these publications as basically dishonest, inaccurate and of little value economically to Canadians.

ACCURACY EMPHASIZED — "There must surely be a fine ethical distinction between American magazines with Canadian editions and our own."

Ald. Ramsay said the situation was serious because the arena is the city's largest single enterprise.

"I can't understand why we haven't been kept informed when such drastic developments were in the wind."

HILLARY GETS SCALP OF 'SNOWMAN'

KATMANDU, Nepal (Reuters) — Mountaineer Sir Edmund Hillary has been given permission to take out of Nepal a scalp claimed to be that of an Abominable Snowman found in the village of Khumjung, near Mount Everest, it was reported today.

The scalp had been preserved as a curiosity and is the only evidence discovered by the New Zealanders' 18-man Anglo-American-New Zealand expedition in their hunt for the legendary half-man, half-beast yeti said to roam the upper Himalayas.

The expedition has been searching for more than a month for a Snowman.

PERU SMASHED BY TIDAL WAVE

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Tidal waves up to 75 feet high smashed into the northern coast of Peru Sunday, hurling fishing boats ashore and destroying port installations and homes.

Communications were knocked out but first fragmentary reports said at least two persons were killed and nine missing.

The reports told of eyewitnesses seeing the ocean recede more than 300 feet from the shore before the giant waves struck, sweeping everything in their path.

An earthquake, possibly in the vicinity of Peru, was recorded at 2:12 p.m. Sunday on the seismograph of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich.

William Milne, seismologist, said the quake occurred about 5,000 miles from Victoria and may have been the cause of a tidal wave reported in the South Pacific Sunday.

He said the earthquake registered a little more than 6.0 on the Richter scale, indicating that the quake was fairly heavy.

Japan Re-Elects Pro-U.S. Group

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's ruling Conservatives rolled back to control of parliament today but failed to get the all-out backing they had asked from the country's voters.

The pro-U.S. Conservatives claimed their victory was a broad endorsement of the U.S.-Japan security pact and other close ties with the West.

Their leftist opponents claimed leftist gains proved just the opposite.

The Sunday election that returned Premier Hayato Ikeda's Liberal Democrats Conservatives to power followed the same general pattern of elections in Japan since the end of the war. It again showed a Conservative majority battling a slowly but steadily increasing leftist minority.

VOTERS SWING SHARPLY — A middle-of-the-road appeal, made by the Democratic Socialist party, was crushed as Japanese voters repeated their sharp swing to the right and left.

The Communists made their best showing in 10 years, increasing their total of the popular vote to 2.8 per cent from 2.6 per cent and winning three seats.

With all but one of 467 parliamentary seats decided, the unofficial count gave this breakdown:

Liberal Democrats 296, Socialists 145, Democratic Socialists 16, Communists three, Agrarians (minor party) one, independents five.

The five independents elected are considered in the conservative camp.

Although Ikeda and his Liberal Democrats won a solid victory, they failed in their aim of increasing their House strength to 312 from 283. That would have given them the

"I walked back to my car and had a cup of coffee from my thermos, then darned if I didn't lose both my coffee and my breakfast. And my stomach muscles still feel sore," he said.

The bullet holes in his metal safety hat are five inches apart, and show clearly that a bullet had entered from the rear and come out at the front.

TOUCHED HAIR — "I put a pencil through the holes, then put the hat on the way I'd been wearing it," Mr. Nelson said. "The pencil just touched my hair."

He assumes the hunter fired at his hat, mistaking it for a deer.

"The only thing that saved me is that I wear the band in my hat fairly tight, and it was well away from my head," he said.

He did not recognize the man who fired the shot.

"I took off after him, but he was going a lot faster than me, so I stopped," he said.

HARD STOPPED — Nelson, who has been hunting since he was nine and was told by his father "never to raise a rifle until you know what you're shooting at," believes the slug which hit him was a hard-nosed bullet from a 250-3,000 rifle.

The two holes in the hat are the same size," he said. "I think if it had been a soft-nosed bullet the second hole would have been larger."

He reported the shooting to B.C. game branch officials Saturday afternoon.

Cuba to Push Canada Trade?

Shooting Incident in Havana
Involves American Embassy Worker

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, mocking the United States trade embargo against Cuba, declared Sunday his government is about to begin trading "in a big way" with Canada.

Raul, the younger brother of Premier Fidel Castro, said Cuba has been winning its economic battle with the U.S. and President Eisenhower's dispatch of warships to the Caribbean "unmasks United States puppets in Central America."

He said the embargo on all exports to Cuba except foodstuffs and medicines has failed so soundly "that we are about to begin trade in a big way very close to them (the U.S.)—we are referring to Canada." He did not elaborate.

The younger Castro told his audience of petroleum workers that Eisenhower's order of last young U.S. Embassy clerk by a Cuban army captain during a scuffle outside a Havana night-club.

Wayne Henderson, 22, of Pasadena, Calif., a communications clerk in the embassy, was seriously wounded Saturday night. His condition was described as satisfactory after a 2½-hour operation for the removal of the bullet, which entered his body near the hip.

There were conflicting versions of the shooting.

Cuban police said the shooting by Capt. Jorge Robreno was accidental. They gave this account:

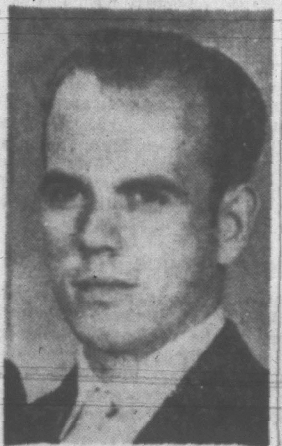

Henderson went night-clubbing with another American, Marine Cpl. William E. Tompkins, 20, of Warren, Ohio. He presented a $5 American bill to pay the cheque but the cashier refused to accept it on the suspicion it might be counterfeit. The cashier demanded pesos. Henderson refused, calling pesos "Communist money."

THREE SCUFFLE

The management called an off-duty policeman, who asked Henderson to go with him to the police station. Outside the night club the two Americans began scuffling with the policeman. Robreno, who had followed the trio out, drew his .45 pistol in an attempt to halt the fight and it went off accidentally.

Although the Cuban police version attached no blame to Robreno, he is being held in La Habana military prison.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said Henderson had resorted to violence only after being pushed by the Cuban policeman and then was shot by another Cuban who walked up with a drawn pistol.

'NO INTERFERENCE'

Verwoerd Wants South Africa 'In'

PRETORIA (Reuters)—Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd said Sunday he has told Prime Minister Macmillan that South Africa wants to stay in the Commonwealth.

But Verwoerd added in a statement issued here that South African membership would be based on the non-interference of Commonwealth members with the domestic affairs of other members.

And he declared that South Africa would not permit herself to be subjected to any form of "humiliating treatment" in connection with the Commonwealth membership question.

'Stop the Rot'

IF LAST WEEK'S TOWN-PLANNING conference did not jolt Victorians from the complacency with which they view the charm of their city, a very dangerous apathy exists in this community. It could be fatal for the capital.

The theme of the conference was "Stop the Rot." That general title covered a number of subheads, not the least important among them the question of revitalizing the downtown district.

The concentrated area is small. It is enclosed within limits stretching north from the Empress Hotel, west from a mid-point in the Blanshard to Quadra block, east from Wharf Street and south from Herald.

Yet from that section of the city, Victoria collects about one-third of its tax revenue on land and one-seventh on improvements. If the property deteriorates, the taxable assessment on the present basis must fall automatically. As it falls; other property, including homes, will have to take up the slack.

This means, in simple arithmetic, that it is to the advantage of every taxpayer to see that the downtown district maintains its value so that it continues to carry a substantial share of the tax burden.

That is an economic factor to claim attention in efforts to "stop the rot." There are many others.

The simple fact is that "Victoria, city of homes and gardens" is far less attractive in its business district than it should be if it is to merit the claims it makes for itself. Some of the pictures taken by the planners have produced shock among our inhabitants. They have had their eyes directed to points within the community where the rot seems well advanced.

The encouraging note in the conference last week was produced by the statement that the rot has not gone so far that it cannot be corrected. But that note in itself carries a challenge to which the public must respond.

On various occasions planners have advanced projects which will increase the vitality, attractiveness and health of the downtown district. The mall was a case in point. The project, injured no doubt by confusion over legal technicalities, failed to win support from enough voters to authorize civic action.

What might have been a substantial beginning to a rehabilitated downtown did not gain sufficient public approval to make it an actuality.

It seemed to be the consensus of those who discussed the question of downtown improvement at the conference that leadership should come from the civic authorities. Certainly in the case mentioned above, that leadership was provided. It was the public that rejected the plan.

We pride ourselves on the amenities Victoria offers in the way of gracious living—a graciousness in large part owed to climate and a tempo less exhausting than certain other parts of the world. But climate alone will not make this—the Greater Victoria community—the place it should be if we permit decay in the heart of the city. And our more leisurely approach to living could be spelled out in the type of apathy which created "Tobacco Road."

Of course it will cost money to make downtown Victoria more appealing than it is. It will cost money to protect the interests which exist in the area against the competitive inroads of major shopping centres which cannot hope to offer greater amenities than could be supplied in the core of the city.

Some of the funds would be invested by private concerns, smartening up their premises, furnishing supplementary attractions for their clients and customers, making it more pleasant to do business downtown. Other finances must come from the public purse, from the city taxes, in investment that promises good returns as the values downtown are enhanced for assessment purposes.

The civic authorities have shown a willingness to move in that direction. Their efforts have been checked by public reaction. Now the people, the voting members of our community, have to make up their minds whether or not they will take a fresh look at the downtown question, put the money and effort required into the job of making it better, or continue to reject constructive proposals at the inevitable cost of city decay.

There is time to effect a cure. The planning conference last week pointed out, however, that the time is not indefinite.

Law and Hysteria

THE DEPORTATION OF TWO Portland, Oregon, men from the United States last week had every appearance of blind bureaucracy and injustice.

One man, born in Finland of American parents, had lived in the United States since the age of eight months—a period of more than 50 years. The other, a Canadian now 55 years of age, had been in the United States since he was 21. The reason for their expulsion, leaving families and relatives behind them, was that in the depression years of the early thirties they had been members of organizations later judged to be subversive. One group mentioned was the Oregon Workers Alliance, which advocated unemployment insurance.

The action was taken under the McCarran-Walter Act of 1950, which was passed in a flurry of excitement over spies and fifth-columnists. Within the strict letter of the law these men perhaps are guilty. They were not born in the United States, and they were members of organizations now on the subversive list. But it is at this point that legality and common-sense part company.

A hungry man in the depression could not be blamed for joining a group that might promise him assistance or a job, particularly when the group was not illegal at that time. Such a fleeting contact with leftism could hardly brand a man as Communist for life. Nor should it put him in the class of the Lucianos and other criminal elements who have been expelled from the United States.

The fact appears to be that the blind application of the Act in these cases has exposed its hysteria and injustice. The final details—such as hustling one of the men onto a plane before he could say goodbye to his relatives—only add to the ignominy of the whole incident. They add, too, to the adverse propaganda which Communist nations can produce for audiences in the neutral nations.

Surely the largest democratic nation in the world can do better than this.

Ontario Plan for Alcoholics

ONTARIO IS RECOGNIZING the increasingly serious problem of alcoholism by considering plans for a new form of treatment. This would abolish the existing jail sentence for persons picked up for drunkenness, and place them in a farm-centre where they could obtain proper treatment.

Imprisonment serves merely to give the victim a sobering-up period. Usually he returns to alcohol immediately on his release. This is costly and valueless. Ontario experts found, for instance, that 70 per cent of the costs of Toronto's Don Jail were due to persons charged with drinking offences.

The Ontario plan promises hope for young offenders if not the hardened alcoholics. Its progress will be watched with interest in other provinces. Does this project not suggest a procedure for the drug addict as well?

For Whom 'Big Ben' Bongs

THE BRITISH BROADCASTING Corporation has bowed to public sentiment and restored, at least in part, the majestic tones of "Big Ben" to its 10 o'clock newscast.

Previously the voice of the famous bell had been reduced to one "bong" on that occasion. In future it will be heard four or five times, fading gently on the air.

Somewhat retention of the notes that rang hope through Europe during its time of agony seem proper. The symbol was too great to be broken off short with one tone.

And yet the change of heart by the BBC provides an interesting commentary on human reaction. "Big Ben" has been important for generations to those who could hear it. It became a sound heard in different parts of the world, far from its tower, only when the BBC introduced it into broadcasts. The broadcasting company created the world image. Now the BBC bows to the image, it has created.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH ALSOP

The Political Creditors

THE relatively small number of outstanding political debts is a feature of his post-victory balance sheet which must give considerable quiet pleasure to Sen. Kennedy.

Even President Eisenhower, in 1952, had a far poorer balance sheet than Kennedy has today. This point was underlined in reverse, so to say, by the recent visit paid Kennedy by one of his principal creditors, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut. Kennedy plays the political game in accord with the accepted rules. He asked Ribicoff to lunch with him at Palm Beach, not only because he likes and admires him, which he does, but also because he feels indebted to him.

The astute Ribicoff and the equally astute Connecticut state chairman, John Bailey, were the first professional politicians outside Massachusetts to back the Kennedy candidacy. For a long time, indeed, they were the only ones. As things have turned out, it was a little like buying General Motors stock when the company was formed, and never selling a share thereafter.

This fact is not only important to Gov. Ribicoff, who will probably become attorney-general if he wants the job, and to John Bailey, who may well be postmaster-general. This same fact is also important to another Connecticut man, Chester Bowles, since the Bowles claim on Kennedy has to be rated as substantially weaker than the Ribicoff-Bailey claims.

Late Recruit

Bowles was a late recruit in the Kennedy camp. Although it is not generally known, he even refused to speak in Kennedy's behalf in the crucial Wisconsin primary. Thereafter, his name was useful at Los Angeles.

But he did not "sacrifice" his candidacy for the House to the Kennedy cause, as some of his friends are now saying. In fact, Bailey, who would hardly have acted against Kennedy's wishes, asked Bowles to stay in the House race, which was won by a Republican after Bowles' unexpected withdrawal.

These unkindly facts suggest why the drive to make Bowles secretary of state is unlikely to be crowned with success. The new cabinet, after all, cannot be half-recruited from Connecticut.

Political realists will note the same sort of unkindly facts in the case of Adlai Stevenson.

Most ironical among them is the fact that Stevenson was asked to nominate Kennedy at Los Angeles, after his own chance of being nominated had reached zero. If he had taken this opportunity of the last instant, he would be a sure bet for secretary of state now. But he refused. Thus the speeches Stevenson most usefully made during the campaign are his only major credit on the books.

In contrast, the books show solid pre-convention credit (the most valuable sort) for Gov. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Gov. Mike DeSalle of Ohio, Governor-elect Terry Sanford of North Carolina, Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota, Rep. Edith Green of Oregon, and the Los Angeles leader, Jeff Unruh, in California.

Short List

As such lists go, this is a short one, even after the addition of the two Abous, Adhems, Ribicoff and Bailey.

Federal employment will unquestionably be open to the people on the list, when and if they want a job—as some of them already do.

Co-operation, in general, rather than specific jobs for themselves, will be the desire of the organization men who also hold important credits. Preeminent among these are Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Buffalo boss Peter Croty and in New York City, the Bronx and Brooklyn leaders, Charles Buckley and Joseph T. Sharkey, but not Carmine DeSapio in Manhattan.

By Kennedy's personal orders, all important campaign contributors were specifically warned that no contract went with their cheques. "Two very large contributions were actually rejected because the intending donors wanted to be assured of diplomatic posts.

This is the main reason why Kennedy's post-victory balance sheet is so much better than Eisenhower's was in 1952. But one must not forget the final category of those without money or delegates, whose own hard work contributed to Kennedy's success.

Heading this category is Robert Kennedy. Any other man who had worked as untiringly and brilliantly as Robert Kennedy worked for his brother, could confidently expect a place in the very highest rank of the new administration.

On the face of the facts, it seems both ridiculous and unjust that Robert Kennedy's relationship to John F. Kennedy should be widely thought to debar him for the kind of post-he could otherwise count on.

WELFARE NEEDS

By MURIEL GENTLEMAN

Not One Child to Spare

IT is a tragedy that the shadow of a welfare state should paralyze or panic any Canadian citizen. It could not possibly exist for years to come. Bringing the health and welfare services now offered to an even level in all parts of the country will fully occupy our endeavours and use all available funds. Until we have met the existing minimum demand we should not fear harnessing ourselves to frills or the inertia of over-service.

Those who work in public health know only too well that they do not have staff or facilities to reach a large portion of the Canadian population even to help people to help themselves through effective known preventative measures.

Like a musical instrument without a performer is a physically rich nation with a scant population. The motorist's slogan "Canada has not one child to spare," quoted at the Canadian Conference on Children held at St. Adele, Quebec, in October, is acknowledgement that Canada needs every able adult citizen.

Special Needs

Before native Canadians reach adulthood they must run the gamut of hazards that enter the first twenty years of human life. It is estimated that one out of 10 children needs special facilities before hoping to finish schooling or to become self supporting.

The variety of special needs is so broad that the country's basic development of health, educational and vocational programs cannot accommodate the extremes of divergences.

Canada has the highest birth rate amongst countries of equivalent socio-economic development, report United Nations statistics. Amongst the same group our infant mortality rate is twelfth. We have little excuse for the latter. This matter of survival alone is a primary concern of provincial health departments and community health services who are most aware of the situation.

Requirements for pre-marital examinations vary widely from one province to another. Apparently only one to two per cent of prospective mothers across Canada attend pre-natal classes available through voluntary agencies or public health departments. Virtually all obstetrical consultants are located in urban areas although 38 per cent of the child population and obviously their mothers are rural dwellers.

Information offered by 124 communities providing health services in seven provinces noted not all hospitals conform to provincial standards for the newborn. In many cases no facilities in the immediate community are available to perform exchange transfusions when required at birth, a significant modern preventive measure against later tragedy.

Greatest Risk

Once the child has survived the greatest risk in living, his first day, he must survive the four weeks' trial.

If he was born in hospital as are the majority of Canadian children today, lack of personnel preventing adequate liaison between hospital and home adjustment leaves undetected detrimental situations that might have been remedied.

High on the list of community needs noticed by community health units are housekeeping services which should be available to mothers for emergencies that arise in households with small children.

After the first year when hospital and community have tried to ensure the successful launching of the new citizen, many of these children disappear from formal records. As pre-schoolers the majority are in contact with preferred health services only on referral.

"When they appear again for school entrance examination, not always required, only 76 per cent of those examined appear to be in good health," observe the reports organized by Dr. John P. McCreary of the University of British Columbia in his evaluation of the Canadian situation.

More Information Please

During the past few months your paper has run several good editorials on the problem of crime, especially as it concerns the young. To my knowledge, there have only been two letters, both by laymen, published in connection with these editorials. One was in response to "All Aid Short of Help," March 28, 1960, and one in response to "Crime and the Young," Aug. 29, 1960, but as yet none in response to the editorial of Oct. 24, 1960, "What Do You Pay for Crime?"

Would it not be timely for your read-

Meantime hearing and sight tests, TB testing, speech therapy and dental services, psychological testing and psychiatric services which, if administered early, might have forestalled later problems, have not been utilized.

There is practically no information available on the proportion of handicapped children requiring intensive treatment programs or a percentage rating of those who can attend conventional schools. If this information were predictable by pre-school child surveys, communities could more efficiently and adequately meet the rising tide of needs for special facilities.

Family allowance distribution has tabulated the fact that 25 per cent of Canadian children move from one community to another in a given year. Because until now there has been no central registry of special services offered privately or publicly, parents have frequently missed opportunities for their children which would have been within their reach.

The private physician has been left with the tremendous responsibility of referring any problem that comes to his attention to specialized programs. As these expand through fields of therapeutic help and recreation, education and parent guidance, obviously no individual can keep a complete catalogue vicariously.

Dr. J. K. Martin, MRCP, co-chairman of the Alberta Committee for the Canadian Conference on Children and director of the complicated research into chronic disabilities in children, suggests that a natural development of work done for the conference might be a "central agency to collect reliable statistics on the incidence of chronic disabilities."

Reference Service

He visualizes an agency to standardize disability definitions so provincial records would be comparable, and to keep a bibliography of available services to be found anywhere in Canada. This could be used as reference to eliminate duplication in the establishment of new projects.

"A growing country cannot afford piece-meal rehabilitation services." Experience and research already undertaken show we can avoid many mistakes in yet undeveloped areas by knowing what other Canadians have successfully accomplished.

The work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Ontario, for instance, with its highly successful program amongst pre-school children and their parents, should be known by every other Canadian facing this problem personally or administratively.

Just as welfare and the problems of survival amongst our Eskimo children must be dealt with before we can implement to any great effect the educational services we are now trying to assure our Indian population, so effective medical programs must be the foundation of educational, vocational and social programs amongst all Canada's children.

The focus should be on the child, not on the disability, when dealing with handicaps, for normal is at best not an exact pattern for a human being. This consideration is a significant guide-line for our educational thinking at every level.

Shortage of Workers

With one dentist available to 3,018 Canadians it does not matter much by whom he is employed. Similarly we have a shortage of social workers, pediatricians and speech therapists, psychologists and psychiatrists.

Our supply of professionals can only handle the fringe of work waiting for them. The population continues to expand. We must raise Canadian children to be the competent specialists we need. But first they must survive childhood.

The welfare state is supposed to guarantee care for everyone. Canada is a long way from being eligible for that labelling.

(Third of Four Articles.)

ers, who must find a solution to this important challenge of juvenile delinquency, to hear what the leading professional authority in this community recommends?

What person is closer to the juvenile delinquency problem in Greater Victoria than the present executive director of the Family and Children's Service, who has served this community as executive director since Dec. 8, 1953, and is official "father" of 447 children cared for in the past year, as well as being entrusted with spending 22.3 cents of every dollar collected in the current Red Feather campaign, according to Community Chest leaflet?

"INTERESTED."

'That Book'

I have no desire to further publicize a book that has already received too much. But the remarks of a certain publisher from eastern Canada, as reported in your columns of recent date, call for comment. As a member of the Social Service Council of the Baptist Federation of Canada, I belong to a group that is deeply concerned about some of the literature displayed on book shelves today.

In connection with my association with the above organization, I read the book in question. There is not one thing in it from beginning to end that justifies its existence. But the tragic fact is that as it makes its slimy way across the land, it leaves behind a trail littered with the broken lives and broken hearts of those who have accepted its scale of moral values, only to find it does not work. This is not the opinion of one "mean and craggy-minded." It happens to be the stern, inexorable dictum of life and from that tribunal there is no appeal. We do not break the moral law any more than we break the physical. "In vain we call old notions 'fudge,' and bend our conscience to our dealing. The Ten Commandments will not budge, and stealing will continue stealing."

I do not wish to be unkind, but may it be that the judgment of the publisher in question is determined by the cash register? If a book sells, it has merit. Nothing else matters.

What Can Be Done for Asthma?

Obviously the first thing to do is to try to find out what the main cause of the asthma is. Then, one can try to avoid, or remove, or combat this cause. In many cases it is highly important to get the person away from dusts or pollens or germs or molds that are causing him to wheeze. Perhaps an air-conditioned bedroom or house would help tremendously. There are electronic air-cleaners that help. In some cases, changing the patient's residence can effect a cure. I remember a young man, a bad asthmatic, who after moving to California never wheezed again, during the many years in which I knew him. Sometimes a man has to change his employment in order to get away from some dust or chemical at the plant. Some men have to move south in order to get away from the winter cold and the winter storms.

Alvarez

Many asthmatics need the help of a good nose man who can drain infected sinuses and perhaps remove a bunch of "polyps" which greatly interfere with breathing. An asthmatic may have to choose between keeping his wheezing and keeping his dog or cat. Many a bad asthmatic I have known could have helped himself greatly by quitting smoking, but this he would not do. Many an asthmatic has gotten help by covering his pillow with a thin plastic cover. Occasionally, a man tells me that he has had to quit eating some food, like chocolate, because it can throw him into a spell of asthma.

One of the best drugs to give immediate relief is epinephrine (adrenalin), but unfortunately, if too much is given too often, the person may become somewhat insensitive to it, and this will be sad. Often today a few drops of epinephrine are blown into the back of the throat by a special apparatus. This same little pocket atomizer can be used to blow in other types of drug that will relax spasm in the bronchial tubes. Several drugs can be used as aerosols to be blown into the throat, and not taken by mouth or by hypodermic injection.

There are, however, still a number of drugs which can be taken by mouth or injected to relax spasm in the air tubes, or to make spectrum come out better, or to make it more liquid and less sticky. In some cases in which an attack of asthma won't let up, the patient is hospitalized, and is given a drug by vein: a drug which is kept running in slowly for 24 hours at a time.

Antibiotics to combat infection may have to be added when the bronchi are infected or perhaps dilated and infected, as in cases of bronchiectasis.

If a person is short of breath and perhaps blue around the lips, showing that the aeration of his blood is poor, he can be given diluted oxygen with the help of a face mask. Nowadays, small tanks of oxygen are being made. Sometimes, when it is hard to get air into the lungs, a mixture is given of 75 per cent helium and 25 per cent oxygen. Helium is so light that it moves more easily through the bronchial tubes than does air.

If the patient's main difficulty is to get out mucus from the bronchi, and if he coughs and coughs until he gets into trouble, drugs can be given which will make the sputum more liquid; drugs such as the iodides, ipecac and several "expectorants" (drugs that may help the person to spit out the material). Often if the patient will lie across his bed, on his stomach, with his head lowered down toward the floor, this "postural drainage" can help him tremendously in getting the sputum out. Occasionally, matters are so bad that bronchoscopy (electrically lighted tube) has to be passed by an expert, and the sputum has to be sucked out.

Often times, drugs like codeine have to be given to cut down on the tendency of the patient to keep coughing. They will give him needed rest and sleep. In other cases, sedatives and sleeping pills help to cut down on anxiety, fear, restlessness, nervousness, insomnia and discouragement.

In some cases the cortisone-like drugs will take the patient over a bad spell. Sometimes a patient can be kept in comfort on a dose of cortisone so small that he can tolerate it without getting into difficulties.

Recently, efforts have been made to relieve severe asthma by certain nerve-cutting operations, but I read that the operations do not always work well, and sometimes work badly.

Children commonly can be relieved of asthma just by moving them out of their home and away from parents who perhaps have been so anxious and excitable and fussy that they have kept the child's nervous system in a turmoil.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

To Canada for a Dime!

LONDON—Naturally enough I take young Scott to the annual model Railway Show.

And no sooner are we in there than I realize how crafty the organizers are. Do they hold the show when the school holidays are on? No sir. Don't want to clutter the place up with a lot of kids.

How, after all, can grown men get down to the serious study of all that's new in model trains and accessories with crowds of youngsters around?

Only children to be seen were those under school age, like Scott, and one of the exhibitors explained to me: "Daddy used to give young Johnnie a railway set for Christmas and only manage to get a go at it when the boy was in bed or away at school. Now daddy takes over!"

The model train hobby is predominantly a grown-up pastime, with highly elaborate railway layouts.

Equipment these days includes everything you can think of in model form—passengers waiting in various attitudes, porters carrying luggage, minute suitcases and trunks to pile up, milk cans, sacks of flour, bits of drain pipe—and all in the same scale as the trains themselves, roughly a sixtieth of actual size.

One stack of tickets caught my eye because the top one entitled you to go from Liverpool's James Street to Canada for a mere tenpence, just over a dime—and first class at that!

The man at the stand explained it wasn't a bargain Atlantic crossing. "Canada" stood for Canada Docks on these old tickets of the Liverpool Overhead Railway (discontinued 1921).

When Scott, tugging at my pant-leg, reminded me the idea of the visit was for him to see the trains breezing around their circuits I saw why rockets haven't replaced the old wide-eyed fascination kids have for trains.

With rocket toys, there's the same problem of recovery the scientists have: after you've fired your toy rocket you have the nuisance of getting up and retrieving it. But a model train you can watch for hours going round and round—if daddy will let you get at it.

NKRUMAH'S OBJECTIVE

Socialist Glow Engulfs Ghana

By HORACE CASTELL

ACCRA (Reuters)—Ghana is marching towards a socialist pattern of society.

Most activities in the country, from trade unions to sport, are being brought under central government control and supervision.

Economically, too, there is a planned trend towards socialism, although at a much slower pace.

The declared ultimate objective of Ghana's ruling Convention People's Party, led by President Kwame Nkrumah, is to make Ghana a socialist state. Nkrumah has been described by the general secretary of his party, Tawia Adamafio, as "a great socialist."

But, at least economically, the government's aim is socialism adapted to economic realities, with private enterprise retaining an important place in the country's economy for some time to come.

GRADUAL APPROACH

"Socialism and capitalism must co-exist to avoid convulsions in the national economy," Kwame Nkrumah, minister of information and broadcasting, said recently.

Adamafio agrees. Economically speaking, he told a symposium on the national economy, Ghana should approach socialism gradually. "To nationalize everything suddenly would be unrealistic," he explained.

But on the social plane, the move towards socialism has been quickening in recent months, particularly since Ghana became a republic within the British Commonwealth. Centralized government control has spread to workers, farmers, ex-servicemen, women and sportsmen—and even people living on charity.

All workers now come under the Trades Union Congress, a wing of the Convention People's Party, and membership of a Trades Union Congress union is compulsory for all employees. Farmers are grouped in the United Ghana Farmers' Council, another wing of the party. State farms and co-operative settlements are being planned.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

The country's two women's organizations have been merged into one National Council of Ghana Women, yet another wing of the party. Autonomous sports associations are being dissolved and integrated into a government-controlled central organization of sport.

Youth is being gradually grouped in a "young pioneers" movement. Veterans' associations have been merged into one body and all charitable appeals now are passed through one fund, the annual government-supervised Kwame Nkrumah Trust Fund.

Economically, the move towards socialism so far has been most marked in plans for the development of both wholesale and retail co-operatives.

The government is hard at work planning the establishment of co-operatives all over the country.

Belton Hearing Aids

TODAY'S QUESTION

Can a hearing aid help me when I have lost my ear drum through infection?

ANSWER

The ear drum is a vital part of the hearing process, but hearing is possible without it. The quality of the hearing will be less distinct but reasonable understanding can be gained by use of correctly fitted instruments.

The first step would be to have your doctor, or ear specialist, clear up all traces of the infection and restore the ear to its normal healthy condition. Subject to detailed audiometric testing it can then be determined whether or not there has been damage to the inner ear or nerve centre of the ear. If the nerve impairment proves to be slight the chances are excellent that a hearing aid will bring good results.

In some cases it is possible for the surgeon to repair the drum or even to replace it with an artificial unit that acts as drum. The wonderful new skills and techniques of ear surgery plus the tremendous advance of design, comfort and performance of modern hearing aids has made it possible for the vast majority of deafened people to hear again.

NEW PARTY SEEN AS OPPOSITION

Union Nationale Finished?

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec Federation of Labor believes the so-called New Party—to be created by an alliance of the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress—may soon form the opposition party in Quebec politics.

The 235,000-member federation's annual meeting was told during the weekend that the June 22 provincial election had brought about "the almost complete disintegration of the Union Nationale."

The election, said the QFL committee studying the New Party proposal, "had sharpened the electorate's appetite for reform."

But it said the Liberal party, now in power, is "not sufficiently democratized nor sufficiently free of financial survivals."

"We foresee," the committee said, "that the new provincial party will soon constitute the real opposition party and that it will rally all the sane elements of the electorate."

The convention voted 492 to 1 in favor of joining the New Party, whose founding convention is to be held in Ottawa next August. The lone dissenter was not identified and did not speak when his vote was registered.

A rich source of iron ore has been discovered in the Rimi Hills of Liberia, the Negro republic in West Africa.

MANITOBA CCF BACKS NEW PARTY

WINNIPEG (CP)—A two-hour debate between opposing factions ended in full endorsement by the Manitoba CCF party for the formation of a new political party on provincial and national levels.

Only about 35 delegates to the provincial CCF annual meeting Saturday expressed reservations about complete support of the CCF-Labor New Party.

During the debate, the delegates rejected two amendments to a motion calling for immediate endorsement of the party. One amendment asked a year's delay before the party is organized in Manitoba. The other proposed that approval of the New Party be withheld until details of its constitution are established.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Colored Esther Reads Out

A double white daisy known as "Esther Read" has been popular with gardeners, florists and home flower arrangers for a good many years.

Only recently has there been any desire for other colors, the whites being so completely satisfactory for many purposes.

Gardeners are now asking for both blue and pink Esther Reads, and would like to know where they can be obtained.

The answer is, only as cut flowers from the florists because there are no plants bearing these colors. The flowers are tinted with floral dyes after being cut from the plants.

Disappointing, isn't it? The "Esther Read" daisy is botanically a form of chrysanthemum maximum, which is the well-known white Shasta daisy. So far, no other color has turned up, with the one exception of a pale yellow known as "Cobham Gold."

In England, where it originated, "Cobham Gold" apparently lives up to its name, but under our stronger light conditions here, it has not as yet shown itself to be more than a poor off-white shade.

Perhaps the fact that "Esther Read" belongs in the chrysanthemum family should give us the clue for strong, healthy plants and blooms.

As with the garden mums, best results are obtained when new plants are grown each year. In this case, the plants are divided annually into small pieces, and several planted in a small triangle of space.

Make the soil rich with rotted manure or compost, and give ample water in summer. The dividing may be done in fall or spring, according to garden conditions.

Top Israel Medallion To Pearson

PHILADELPHIA (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson of Canada Sunday night was presented in absentia with the Medallion of Valor of the State of Israel.

His citation drew attention to the former external affairs minister's "outstanding role in the deliberations of the United Nations which led to the judicious consideration of the differences between the State of Israel and the Arab nations."

It also cited his "illustrious record of dedication to the cause of world peace."

Because of his parliamentary duties in Ottawa, Mr. Pearson was unable to receive the medallion in person from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the awards dinner here.

Others chosen to receive the award included Gen. Luelius D. Clay and Sir Anthony Eden.

In a speech of acceptance, recorded earlier and broadcast at the dinner, Mr. Pearson said Israel still has not attained the security to which its "gallant and hard-working people" are entitled.

"That must be the next objective to be secured: A creative peace and security for Israel based on freedom and justice, something which I believe is as much in the interests of Israel's neighbors as it is of Israel herself."

GUEST SPEAKER Tuesday at the annual meeting of Victoria Liberal Association will be new Oak Bay MLA Alan Macfarlane. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Liberal headquarters, 1322A Government.

Nominations for offices include S. C. Smith, president; D. McLellan and Mrs. H. I. MacKenzie, vice-presidents; Arthur H. Cox, secretary, and Jack Maltman, treasurer.

Burned Baby Dies

MONTREAL (CP)—A newborn baby found Friday in the incinerator of an apartment block died today. A coroner's inquest will be held Tuesday. Meanwhile homicide detectives are questioning residents of the north-end apartment block.

More 'Shifts' Face Saanich

The shift system will have to be increased next fall in all schools in the rural part of the Saanich peninsula as the result of Saturday's defeat of the $784,000 school construction bylaw.

James D. Helps, chairman of District 63 School Board, said today the defeat will seriously aggravate the problem of overcrowding in schools—especially in the northern section of the municipality of Saanich.

"It will certainly mean more schools on the shift system throughout the district next year," he said.

He did not know if trustees will consider submitting the bylaw again to ratepayers this year.

The bylaw failed to obtain a 60 per cent majority necessary for its passage. A total of 1,626 voted yes and 1,434 no for a 53 per cent majority.

The school bylaw was the third submitted to ratepayers in 12 months.

Secession Move Planned by Reeve

Disappointed with the defeat of the bylaw, Saanich Reeve George Chatterton said he will request that the northern part of Saanich secede from District 63 and amalgamate with the Greater Victoria School District 61.

He said the system of having schools in Saanich come under two school boards is working to the disadvantage of the municipality.

"It's not working because of the 'irreconcilable conflict' between urban and rural areas within the school district," he said.

He said he didn't blame those living on the north end of the peninsula who saw no need for schools, for voting against the bylaw.

(Saanich voters supported the bylaw, but the yes votes in Central Saanich and on the north end of the peninsula were in the minority.)

But the reeve said this "conflict of interest" between rural and urban areas should not be allowed to exist.

Mr. Chatterton said the bylaw defeat also showed that ratepayers are dissatisfied with the present method of financing schools.

He agreed with the ratepayers that the present method of school financing is not satisfactory.

"No school cost formula should be allowed to jeopardize the primary importance of education to Canadians," the reeve said.

SENATOR'S WIFE SAYS:

'Many Are Unitarians Without Knowing It'

Many people are Unitarians without knowing it, says Mrs. Emily Taft Douglas, wife of Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois.

Here to address the Unitarian Fellowship of Victoria, Sunday, Mrs. Douglas defined Unitarianism as a "liberal religion which refuses to be tied to any kind of dogma."

For that reason, she said, most Unitarians do not believe in the Holy Trinity that is accepted by the majority of Christian churches.

"It is not that we object to the concept of the Trinity. What we rebelled against was the cruelty inflicted on those who preached against it."

"We Unitarians are actually a mixture of many faiths. Some of us are agnostics. Some believe in personal survival after death; others do not.

"I personally believe we survive only in our children and the continuity of the race—but I am not sure."

Mrs. Douglas said Dr. Brock Chisholm, of Vancouver Island, is a Unitarian, and most men of science are in effect Unitarians.

"We believe every man and woman should live on the highest personal level and we don't tie ourselves to the Bible."

BIBLE INCOMPLETE
"We don't believe all truth was revealed in the past as the Bible suggests."

A pleasant, vivacious woman, Mrs. Douglas worked hard for her husband in the recent United States elections and proudly announced that he had been returned with a majority of more than 440,000.

She is also a writer and an actress. During the war she wrote the popular children's book, "Applesed Farm"—the story of Johnny Applesed.

Dunn Leaves For Ottawa

G. Fitzpatrick Dunn left for Ottawa Sunday to form part of a delegation to the federal government from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

He is one of four spokesmen who are presenting declarations and resolutions adopted at the Canadian Chamber's recent annual meeting in Calgary.

Mr. Dunn is vice-president for British Columbia of the Canadian Chamber.

Several years ago she had a leading role in the play "The Cat and the Canary," in New York, and was cast in several other plays.

In Victoria she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stevenson, 316 Moss Street.

Now Shell makes special gasolines for the West Coast—to prevent stalling even on the dampest days

In West Coast Winters, dampness is a major cause of engine stalling. Read how moisture turns to ice in your carburetor even on mild days! And how Shell's Winter gasolines are specially fortified to prevent stalling even in the dampest weather.

ORDINARY WINTER gasolines often fail to keep engines from stalling here on the West Coast of Canada.

These same gasolines work well enough in really cold climates. But during our mild Winters, dampness is a major reason engines stall.

Ice at fifty degrees

Here's what happens when you start your car. As soon as your engine turns over, the temperature inside your carburetor can drop as much as thirty degrees!

You can see what that means. Even if it's a mild fifty degrees outside, it's below freezing in your carburetor. As your freezing-cold carburetor gulps damp air from outside, the moisture in the air turns to ice. And your car stalls.

Shell's West Coast gasolines

When you fill up at any Shell service station on the West Coast of Canada, you get gasoline made specially for driving in our damp, Winter weather.

At Shellburn refinery, a special anti-stalling ingredient is added to the Winter gasolines. The name of this ingredient is Shell's Additive 182. It wins the battle by joining forces with the enemy. As soon as moisture gets into your carburetor, Additive 182 mixes with it to prevent it from freezing.

And there's enough Additive 182 in Shell gasolines to protect you against stalling even when the relative humidity is 100 per cent.

Quick starts

All year round, Shell is primed with Butane, to give quick-starts. Butane is so eager to get started that it will actually vaporize by itself, unless stored under pressure at the refinery.

They sold the same car seven times, according to the charges.

LABOR BOSS UNDER GUN

Congress, Courts Will Quiz Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—James Hoffa, much-investigated head of the Teamsters' Union, is being investigated again—both by Congress and the courts. Senator John McClellan, Democrat of Arkansas, said Saturday he expects to show in a series of hearings opening Dec. 13 that "notorious underworld criminals and racketeers continue to control" Teamsters' locals under Hoffa's rule.

Hoffa himself is expected to be called for testimony in the hearings which will concentrate on New York city union operations.

McClellan said the hearings will concern shakedowns, payroll padding and union welfare fund irregularities.

A federal grand jury at Orlando, Fla., ended a six-month recess and was reconvened several days ago in an inquiry into Hoffa's alleged misuse of $400,000 Teamsters' funds in a Florida real estate project.

JACK McCLELLAND
... in search of talent

'MUST BE LIVELY'

Books About Professions In Big Demand

There is a brisk demand for novels which illuminate a particular profession or calling, says Toronto publisher Jack McClelland, but such stories must be "lively and revealing."

Visiting Victoria on a cross-Canada safari in search of new writing talent, Mr. McClelland said:

"At the moment there is a spate of novels about nurses and doctors, but the public interest extends to many other callings."

"You might even write a good novel about a dentist, but it is highly unlikely that any dentist would write it. A capable novelist can put himself into the shoes of almost any kind of worker."

Mr. McClelland, 38-year-old president of McClelland and Stewart Ltd., believes the public will always be interested in good novels about newspapermen.

GLAMOROUS

"Newspaper work has a particular glamor for people who follow comparatively humdrum occupations and there is always a market for a first-class newspaper story with a strong dramatic plot."

"Incidentally, it is more important to have a plot today than it was a few years ago. Novels nowadays do not depend so much on characterization."

On his western tour, Mr. McClelland is launching several new Canadian books, including a first novel by a B.C. author, "This Side Jordan," by Margaret Laurence; MacLean's Canada, "Adventures of a Columnist," by Pierre Berton; "Voice from the Attic" by Robertson Davies; "Ordeal by Ice," by Farley Mowatt; "To All Men," by McKenzie Porter.

NO. 8 PLANS BED CAMPAIGN

Cunningham H. McMillan, 971 Lodge, retired, announced Saturday he will seek nomination next month to a vacancy on the Saanich Council.

He is the eighth candidate contesting three vacant seats. Mr. McMillan, who is being treated for bronchial pneumonia at the Veterans' Hospital, said he will conduct his campaign from his hospital bed.

Other candidates are: Stanley Eden, incumbent councillor; Harold Todd and Ainslee Worthington, Joseph Casey, Mrs. Mira Yarwood, Mrs. Beatrice Mundell and Lionell Speller.

Natural gas deposits in the foothills of the Pyrenees are believed sufficient to supply all France for 30 years.

U.S. SPACE CAPSULE TEST FAILS

Tower Flew, Rocket Didn't

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to launch an unmanned space capsule failed today.

When the countdown reached zero an escape tower shot into the sky leaving the Redstone booster rocket and the capsule on the pad.

The 15 1/2-foot tower shot straight up into low-hanging clouds and several seconds later plunged back onto the cape.

The launching was to have been the first in the Mercury Redstone series. The purpose was to test the capsule in a space environment.

If success had been achieved, a chimpanzee was scheduled to ride a Redstone-powered capsule over an identical route within two months.

If that was successful an astronaut was to take the same trip in February or March in the first United States man-in-space attempt.

Today's capsule was aimed to go 130 miles into space and drop in the Atlantic Ocean 220 miles downrange 16 minutes later. There was to be no attempt to put the capsule into orbit—the eventual goal of the man-in-space program.

Ships, planes and helicopters were waiting in the target area to attempt to recover the space chamber. A large parachute was to pop out and ease the space craft into the water.

Finland Seeks Russian OK for Trade Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—President

Urho Kekkonen of Finland led a delegation to Moscow today to work out an agreement with Russia enabling his country to do business with the European Free Trade Association's "outer seven."

Wrapped in a heavy overcoat and wearing a black astrakhan hat, Soviet Premier Khrushchev turned out in below-zero weather to greet the Finns at the railway station.

Moscow opposes all Western political and economic blocs but Khrushchev has given tentative approval to making an exception so that Finland can keep its "competitive position" in Western trade.

The Soviet Union is Finland's best customer and will still hold a "most-favored nation" position in trading with that country.

Members of the outer seven, formed last year, are Norway, Sweden, Austria, Switzerland, Portugal and Britain, besides Finland.

Germans Still Held

MUNICH (AP)—Bishop Theodore Heckel of the Evangelical Prisoners' Aid Organization said Saturday that although thousands of displaced Germans have been repatriated from the Soviet Union about 80,000 still remain in Russia.

SUITES READY BY JAN. 1 FOR 'DESERVING COUPLES'

(From Duncan Bureau)
Kiwanis Village Society in Duncan is accepting applications for occupancy in its low-rental housing development for elderly citizens.
Eight modern suites in the Kiwanis Village, on Trunk Road, are nearing completion and the first will be ready for occupancy by January 1.
Each of the suites will be electrically heated and contain a refrigerator, range, wall-to-wall carpeting and full bathroom fixtures. There are also central washing and drying facilities. The suites will rent for $36.75 a month.
For the present, occupancy will be restricted to elderly married couples with a maximum annual income of $2,340. Preference will be given to present or former residents of the Cowichan district but applications from outside the district will also be given consideration.

Completion of the first eight units in the $60,000 development marks the end of the initial phase of the project that has been on the club's books since 1953.
It was Jack Hindmarch, Kiwanis president at that time, who first interested the club in the idea of low-rental housing for senior citizens.
Under his active leadership, the club got the backing and support of the federal and provincial governments and then went out and raised just over 10 percent of the project's cost. The two governments financed the balance.
Mr. Hindmarch said the village is not intended for social welfare cases, but rather for elderly couples on moderate incomes.
"It is for those deserving couples who have a few dollars and wish to enjoy the privacy of their own homes and take care of themselves."

Royal Oak Dairyman Re-Elected

NANAIMO—James Burdge, Royal Oak dairyman, was re-elected president of the Vancouver Island Holstein Club Saturday at the group's annual meeting in Nanaimo.
John Looy, Saanichton, is vice-president, and William Taylor, Saanichton, is secretary.
Directors are Gordon Rendell and William Judge, Victoria; George Braithwaite, Cobble Hill; William Benson, Cedar; Gordon Loudon, Wellington; and James Casanave, Courtenay.

MORE HOLSTEIN
Speaker was Dr. Jack Berry, PNE president and professor of animal husbandry at UBC, who said there are more Holstein cattle registered in Canada than all other dairy breeds combined.
Average Holstein cow production corrected to a level of four per cent butter fat is 10,916 pounds per year, he said, while Guernseys are 9,363 pounds, Ayrshires 8,792 pounds, and Jerseys 8,758 pounds.

COMPLACENCY
He warned breeders of the need for increased care in herd management and type selection, "because great numbers and big production could lead to complacency and neglect of these all-important matters."
The club will invite the B.C. Holstein Club to hold its annual "black and white" picnic on Vancouver Island next summer, and it was agreed that "black and white day" for Vancouver Island in 1961 should be at the Nanaimo Fair. A motion that if he held at Saanichton was defeated.

PRIZES
Show halters were given to the following top project scorers in each of five Holstein 4-H Clubs on the Island: Ward Bishop, Saanichton; John Berry, Comox; Delbert Craig, Alberni; Martin Doney, Cowichan; and Ernest Dolling, Cedar.
A guest at the meeting was Clara Taylor of Saanichton, elected recently as B.C. Dairy Princess.

School Bylaw Badly Beaten

LAKE COWICHAN — Owner-electors of Lake Cowichan School District 66 turned down a $402,629 school building bylaw Saturday by an overwhelming majority.
The school bylaw, first ever to go down to defeat in the district, was rejected by 65 per cent of the voters.
Final count showed 223 votes for and 395 votes against the bylaw. It lost in each of the three centres of Lake Cowichan, Youbou and Honey-moon Bay.
A. B. Greenwell, school board chairman, expressed disappointment.
He said it was quite likely the bylaw would be re-submitted "in more acceptable form" within the next six months.
Defeat of the bylaw, he added, would not work an immediate hardship on schools.
"Accommodation is not a serious problem at this moment, but there will be a problem at the high school next year and at the elementary school as well," he said.

ISLAND BRIEFS

1.5% Increase For Teachers

LAKE COWICHAN—A settlement has been reached here between District 66 school board and the local teachers' association on 1961 teachers' salaries.
Teachers will receive a pay boost averaging between 1.05 and 2 per cent. Salary scales next year will range from a minimum of $3,000 in the lowest bracket to a maximum of $8,000 in the highest category.
The settlement was reached in the conciliation stage. Dr. C. W. Mewhort represented the teachers and Colin Anderson the school board during conciliation proceedings.

COLWOOD—Fund sponsored here by Colwood Volunteer Fire Department to benefit the children of Jack and Tom Cameron, local residents killed in a highway accident Oct. 21, now exceeds $3,000.
Final contribution to the fund was a sum of close to $300 raised at a dance Friday at Colwood Community Hall. The hall and all services were donated.

DUNCAN — Cowichan Christmas Cheer committee will hold its second organizational meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Duncan Health Centre.
Main order of business will be the election of a new chairman and co-chairman, Tom Kilpatrick and Wyndham Bird, who held the posts last year, are unable to carry on owing to pressure of business.
Service clubs, fraternal organizations, and other interested groups have been urged to send representatives to the meeting.

$329,000 BUILDING PROGRAM

Sooke School Vote Dec. 10

Ratepayers of Sooke School District 62 will vote Dec. 10 on a $329,000 school building referendum for the district.
Major item in the referendum will be a $210,000 eight-room addition to Elizabeth Fisher Junior High School on Jacklin Road. The eight-room school was closed by bankruptcy proceedings in December of 1959, when almost completed. It was opened last May 31, and was overcrowded on its first day.
Other large items in the list of projects are a two-room school at Glen Lake to cost $26,000, a $25,000 addition at Milnes Landing, one-room addition at Sangster School to cost $7,500, and extensions to the Belmont High School gymnasium and auditorium to cost $10,000.
Ronald J. Weir, school board chairman, will speak on the referendum Monday night at meetings of Langford PTA, in the school activity room, and Happy Valley PTA. Both meetings are scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

DECOYS SAVE TWO COMPANIONS

Hunter Drowns at Tofino

TOFINO — A Vancouver hunter drowned here Saturday when a small boat capsized, but failed to respond to artificial respiration. At an inquiry later drowning was listed as the cause of death.
The victim had set off from MacLean's Point, near Long Beach, for Indian Island, about 1630 Burnaby, who was one mile off shore.
With him were Fred C. Withler, 245 Pine Street, Nanaimo, and Iffa L. Withler, of Vancouver.

WIND WRECKS CRUISER

CAMPBELL RIVER — A boat was wrecked and an aircraft damaged in a storm here Saturday which swept the waterfront with winds up to 55 miles an hour.
The cabin cruiser Nor-Tel, owned by the Northwest Telephone Co., was swept from shelter behind the government breakwater and smashed against the new Tye Plaza seawall.
One wing of an aircraft owned by Con York was damaged at a mooring at the mouth of Campbell River. Cost of repairs will be $300.

BOAT SWAMPED

As they neared the island their boat was swamped in choppy water, and the three men decided to share the decoys and swim for shore. Dibblee, however, was swept into open water by a tidal current.

The survivors lit a fire which attracted hunters Herbert Holyoak, Bill McWilliams and George Hillier, who went to the scene by boat.
The stranded hunters sent them off immediately to search for Dibblee. They found him shortly after, tied to decoys, but they failed to revive him.

ANNUAL CONVENTION of B.C. Truck Logger's Association will be held in Vancouver Jan. 11-13 with Wallace W. Baikie, vice-president, as convention chairman. Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes, VC, will officiate at opening ceremonies.

TOP PRIORITY FOR WIDENING

DUNCAN—Widening of a portion of Cowichan Lake Road within the city limits, between Boundary Street and Centennial Heights, has been given "top priority" in 1961-62 estimates, the provincial highways department has informed city council.

Completion of the project, however, will depend upon the availability of funds.

SAANICH TAKES LEAD

Thistles Bloom On Damp Days

Weather proved a hindrance to four Victoria and District Football League teams Sunday but Saanich Thistles continue to bloom despite the dampness.

Thistles trounced a short-handed Ladysmith side 9-0 at Reynolds Road Park to move into undisputed possession of first place in the 11-team league.

At Topaz Avenue Park, defending champion Evco's edged Heaneys 2-1 on Aron Arthur's last-minute goal to step into a tie for second place with Kickers. Two other Sunday games were postponed because of ground conditions.

Victoria West got a brilliant display from right winger Horst Szucolla to down Nanaimo 5-2 at Royal Athletic Park in Saturday's lone fixture.

Thistles, who have given up only five goals in eight games, showed balance in all departments. Glen Robbins and Stan Wiseman each scored two goals while singles went out to Gary Crowe, Ron Minnis, Klaus Heyde, George Robbins and Dave Collett. Arthur's goal at Topaz broke up a brilliant duel despite soft ground conditions. Maurice Bunyan counted Evco's first goal while starry Al Boden tied it up for Heaneys moments later.

Szucolla scored one goal and set up three others in Saturday's game. Pat Mulcahy, Dave Wakelyn, Robin Barnes and Al Metcalfe also counted for Wests while Jack Scott and Dave Clark scored Nanaimo's goals.

Victoria's Canadian football players are proving to be equally adept on rugby fields.

Members of the Drakes' football team, standouts throughout the game, accounted for all their scoring Saturday as James Bay posted its first victory of the Victoria Rugby Union season.

The Bays, getting two tries from speedy Charlie Bishop, one from big Pete Ash and a convert by Chuck Weeks, defeated Royal Roads 11-3 in a first division encounter at Macdonald Park.

Oak Bay Wanderers' White squad turned back a stubborn Victoria College-Vikings side 11-0 in another first division match. Bob Moore and Ellis Achtem counted tries for the Whites, Walter Tate supplied a convert and veteran Don

College Crown Up for Grabs

NEW YORK (AP) — The walls came tumbling down Saturday on Missouri, top-rated college football team in the United States.

The Tigers dropped a 23-7 decision to Kansas and with the defeat went their hopes of winning the Big Eight championship, their first perfect season in 70 years and probably the national championship.

Even in defeat, though, Missouri was tapped to make a repeat performance in the Orange Bowl Jan. 2. Georgia turned back the Tigers 14-0 in the Orange Bowl last New Year's Day.

Kansas wound-up with the Big Eight title—the first time in a dozen years that Oklahoma hasn't won it—but is in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's doghouse and can't play in the post-season games.

MISSISSIPPI GOOD BET

Had Missouri beaten Kansas, the Tigers almost certainly would have won the national title. Now the crown is up for grabs by any of a handful of teams. The best guess is that Mississippi will take it if they beat Mississippi State next week.

Utah State, which also had been after an undefeated season, was defeated 6-0 by Utah. So State had to be content with a tie for the skyline championship with Wyoming and a 9-1 record for the season.

WHO'LL PLAY HUSKIES

Iowa, No. 2 behind Missouri, in the current Associated Press Poll, wound up with an 8-1 record by whipping Notre Dame 28-0. The Hawkeyes finished tied with Minnesota for the Big Ten championship when the Gophers vanquished Wisconsin 26-7.

Washington, rated No. 5 behind Minnesota, edged Washington State 8-7 and wound up with a 9-0 record. If Mississippi, No. 3, stumbles next week, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota or Washington could slip in.

Washington Huskies officially received a second straight invitation to the Rose Bowl game Sunday, but with Iowa and Minnesota deadlocked, a rival for the Huskies on New Year's Day hasn't been decided.

Gutoski Scores Two Wins

VANCOUVER (CP) — Most of the favorites had little trouble Sunday as a record 212 rinks, including 46 Prairie entries, began matching shots in the week-long sixth annual $10,000 Totem Bonspiel.

Some had to settle for an even split of their opening matches in the two primaries, however, being caught off guard by unheralded rinks and not able to make up the lost ground.

Among those entering today's play with unblemished records were such favorites as Matt Baldwin of Edmonton, Reg Stone of Trill, B.C., Lyall Dagg of Vancouver and Vancouver veterans Fred Tinning and Charlie Cook.

Also with a 2-0 record were Jack Arnet, University of B.C., and former provincial winners Tony Gutoski of Victoria (1958) and Barry Naimark of Vancouver (1959).

SETTLE FOR SPLITS

Former Canadian champion Bill Rose of Drayton Valley, Alta., and Garnett Campbell of Avonlea, Sask., had to settle for a split. So did veteran Frank Avery of Vancouver and 1960 B.C. champion Glen Harper of Duncan.

Baldwin, three-time Canadian champion, rolled by Les Hamilton and Clint Smith, Vancouver-Capilano clubmates, 10-9 and 8-7 in the Totem and Evergreen primaries respectively.

COOKE ABANDONS BIG LEAGUE PLANS

TORONTO (CP) — Jack Kent Cooke says he has given up attempts to bring big league baseball to Toronto because of conditions imposed by the American League.

Cooke, who flew to New York at the request of the American League's expansion committee, said during the weekend he was asked to buy 28 American League players at $75,000 each, or a total cost of $2,100,000.

"There are a lot of players in the pool I wouldn't buy for triple 'A' ball," he said, "even at the major league waiver price of $20,000."

"A team with the players offered," he continued, "would be lucky to win 40 games next season."

St. Margaret's Win Cup

Girls of St. Margaret's School scored a major upset Saturday to win the 24th annual Bridgeman Cup grass hockey trophy at Central Junior High.

The school beat powerful Victoria College 2-1 in a tense final playoff game to take the cup which represents the Vancouver Island championship. College recently won the Pacific Northwest title in a tournament in Vancouver.

It was a standout effort by the girls' school which wasn't rated much of a chance against College which is able to draw from the best of school graduating classes every year.

Entries in the annual tournament numbered 12 teams with the inclusion, for the first time, of North Saanich High and Crofton House from Vancouver.

FIGHT RESULTS

HAWANA — Julio Carreras, 171½, Cuba, stopped Billy Martinez, 173, Cuba, 8.
SEOUL — Kang Se-chul, 132, South Korea, knocked out Rush Mayon, 135, Philippines, 5.

Canada must export to live.

Our population itself could never consume all that Canada is capable of producing. Without exports, fullest use could never be made of our natural resources, Canada's high standard of living could never be sustained.

85% of ALCAN's aluminum sales are made outside of Canada — nearly 200 million dollars worth a year. It represents the work done in Canada by Canadians using Canadian waterpower which is never depleted but constantly renewed. It is the result of efficient, economical production which has enabled Canadian aluminum to compete in world markets. Aluminum is vital to Canada's economy and trade. NEW YORK—Having made good in movies and now on TV, Cara Williams would prefer not being reminded she used to be Mrs. John Barrymore Jr.

"Even before these recent strange events in Rome," says Cara—referring to her ex-husband's new marriage—"I didn't like to use the Barrymore name. It seemed like name-dropping. I even used to introduce him as 'Mr. Williams'."

"Once when we were shopping, somebody said to him, 'Aren't you John Barrymore?' I spoke up and said, 'Gee, no—but doesn't he look like him?'"

Cara, here on behalf of her CBS TV show, "Pete and Gladys," told me she's personally rearing Johnny 3rd, who's six.

Tom Ewell's not very confident about flying. Planning in from L.A., he asked his wife about the tall, handsome chap she was talking to.

"I'm trying to comfort him about flying," she said. "He's in experimental aviation—and he's scared to death. He knows all the things that could happen."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... A friend of playwright Arthur Miller predicts he'll reconcile with his first wife... Marilyn Monroe's divorce will be a quickie; she's not likely

SHRIMP BOATS A-COMIN'

TOFINO — About 40 fishermen from Victoria, Steveston, and Port Alberni have started fishing shrimp between Bamfield and Ucluelet as a winter sideline.

Four packers are serving the co-operative venture. They take the catch to Alberni daily, and trucks take the Shrimp the rest of the way to Steveston, where they are cleaned and packed.

"It's no killing, but we're making wages," said one of the fishermen.

FROM COLUMBIA STORAGE

Kootenays Fight For Benefits

TRAIL (CP) — Demands that revenue from the downstream benefits of the Columbia River hydro-electric project be used to develop marginal land, mineral resources, forest and fish and game in the Kootenays will be presented to Lands and Forests Minister Williston.

A meeting of the executive of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of South Eastern B.C. decided this after it was mentioned that the minister will be in Nelson Dec. 9.

V. L. Mosher of Creston, head of the hydro committee of the chamber, said the Kootenays will be used for the storage of water for the creation of power.

In return the chamber expected the government to institute its proposals.

FEARS LOWER MAINLAND

Guy Constable of Creston, who was chairman of the former water resources committee, said: "It has been very clear to me that the Lower Mainland for several years figured that they are going to get these downstream benefits."

The United States will return to Canada 50 per cent of the power that is generated in the U.S. because of storage in Canada.

On other matters F. Merriam of Creston suggested an increase in fuel tax to road users to equalize the difference in cost between short and long distance truckers because of the higher licence fee for truckers.

He said under the present system of licensing the small operator is being hurt more than the long-distance operator.

BUT KENNEDY'S LEAD STILL SAFE

Alaska Confirmed for Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Late revisions in vote counts from the Nov. 8 elections have put Alaska solidly into Vice-President Nixon's column and cut Democrat John Kennedy's winning margin to 178,774. With 1,305 voting units still unreported and many absentee ballots still to be counted, the totals were Kennedy 33,896,551 and Nixon 33,717,777.

Kennedy still had 300 electoral votes—31 more than the minimum needed for election. Since Alaska earlier had been considered a likely win for Nixon, the over-all electoral vote picture was not changed.

1947 TREATY MAY BE USED IN CARIBBEAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Organization of American States has reached a majority agreement on applying the 1947 Rio pact in investigating Guatemala's charge of aggression from Cuba, diplomatic sources said Sunday.

They reported the agreement was worked out after nearly four days of informal conferences, and said that Guatemala—or another nation—will ask shortly that the Rio treaty be invoked.

If Cuba is found guilty of aggression, political and economic sanctions could be imposed by the OAS.

Guatemala and Nicaragua last week had anti-government risings which they charged were backed by Cuba. Costa Rica was involved when the Nicaraguan invaders crossed over from its territory.

China Balks Red Summit Talk Windup

MOSCOW (Reuters) — All signs Sunday indicated that the 80-nation Communist "summit conference" here was continuing—perhaps for some time—despite the departure of Czech President Antonin Novotny.

The Chinese delegation of about 90 led by head of state Liu Shaochi has made no concessions to the Soviet Union and Eastern-European countries on ideological questions, unofficial sources said.

The conference began about 10 days ago and delegates from many of the 80 Communist parties represented, cancelled return reservations on planes leaving last week.

Novotny left his delegation behind and observers said the conference could continue well into this week and possibly into next week. Novotny left Saturday to return to Prague on business.

BACK CHINESE IDEAS

Observers said other leaders might depart, but the conference could not be considered concluded until Liu was satisfied he had made his points.

Unofficial sources said points include ideological differences between the Chinese, who have some support from South American delegates and possibly Albania and other delegates.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, however, was believed to have a majority of delegates lined up behind his view that peaceful co-existence is necessary in the nuclear age, but that Communism will triumph in the world without war.

RCN at Fetes In New Zealand

Canadian sailors will take part in two major celebrations in New Zealand next year in the course of a three-months training cruise in the Antipodes.

The 450 officers and men of frigates Sussexvale, New Glasgow, and Beacon Hill will be in Waitangi Feb. 6 for the 140th anniversary of the signing of the treaty with Maori chiefs which placed New Zealand under British protection.

Between Feb. 24 and March 4 they will take part in the annual Wellington festival.

Big Boost in Payload For Newest B.C. Ferry

An Extra 400 Passengers

The B.C. Government's third, new ferry will have space for 1,000 passengers, ferry manager Monty Aldous said today.

The Sidney and Tsawwassen, the vessels now in service between Swartz Bay and the mainland, carry 600 passengers.

Mr. Aldous said the new, unnamed ferry to be built next year, will have the same overall dimensions as her sister ships.

"But there will be more passenger space available. Vehicle space will remain the same."

Sidney and Tsawwassen carry 110 cars.

Mr. Aldous said he was unable to disclose where the extra passengers space will be found.

PLANS INCOMPLETE

Detailed plans and specifications still are incomplete, he said.

However, the toll authority, the government agency which runs the service, has advertised that tenders will be called soon. It is expected the call for bids will be early in December.

Toll authority secretary Dr. J. V. Fisher said today:

"The plans will be fully available by the end of the month."

He said notice is to give shipyards plenty of time to prepare bids on the ferry, which Premier W. A. C. Bennett says will look and cost approximately the same as her sisters. They cost $3,000,000 each.

Mr. Aldous said actual number of passengers carried depends on terms of a Canadian Steamship Inspection licence.

The CSI licence for Sidney and Tsawwassen is for 600 passengers although they could carry more, he said. They couldn't hold anything like 1,000, he added.

Local shipyards are expected to be keen bidders on the new vessel. Mr. Sidney was built by Victoria Machinery Depot, while Tsawwassen was built in Vancouver by Burrard Drydock.

Move by U.S. Would Hit City Stores

Retail trade group of the Chamber of Commerce today expressed concern over speculation that the U.S. government may cut out customs exemptions to U.S. citizens returning with Canadian-bought merchandise.

Robert Thompson, group chairman, commented following reports from Washington, D.C., the move was contemplated.

The matter was discussed at a breakfast meeting of the group today, but no further action was taken pending clarification.

Walter Dodsworth, chairman of the tourist trade group, said earlier government cuts could spell the end for Government Street specialty stores that cater largely to tourists.

The suggestion the allowance might be eliminated came from U.S. government sources, based on a move to protect the country's dollar reserves.

U.S. tourists can now take home goods valued at $10 if they have been out of the U.S. one day; $200 if out over 48 hours and $500 if they have been away five days.

Double Lock, Door Thwarts Burglary

Someone who poleaxed the front door of Pacific Breweries warehouse at 450 Catherine overnight Sunday failed to get past its double lock and heavy woodwork.

A police patrol found the attempt to smash in—and the axe that was used—at 5:20 a.m.

The door was badly chipped and locks were jammed by the blows, detectives reported.

In other weekend burglaries, more than $100 worth of cash, goods and fresh fruit were stolen.

ADmits THEFT

Eighteen-year-old George R. James, of Victoria, pleaded guilty in city police court to stealing $30 from a sleeping man's trousers Saturday evening.

Lum Koon, 531½ Fisgard, told police a man came into his apartment, awakened him, took the money, then ran off.

The complainant followed, had words with the intruder, and was later able to identify him for police, who picked up James Sunday.

At first James told police he just borrowed the money and gave back $4 of it Sunday.

He admitted later he had stolen the cash.

At Wimpy's Cafe, 937 Yates, a thief forced a rear window, took money from pinball and cigarette machines and stole a $35 razor and $30 radio.

FRUIT STOLEN

Twenty dollars cash, unemployment insurance books and stamps contained in a cash box were taken from Dave Lewis Cartage, 842 Cormorant, by a burglar who broke a rear window.

At the provincial government Douglas Building, glass was smashed in a cafeteria door, money was taken from a cigarette machine and an attempt was made to open a cash register using tools taken from the kitchen.

A half case of oranges and grapes were missed by proprietor Low Long, 817 North Park, when his produce shed was broken into.

1,262 NEEDY CITY CHILDREN COULD BE MADE OH SO HAPPY

Is anybody planning a Christmas party for underprivileged children?

The Christmas Bureau has 1,262 such children on its books, yet to date they know of only one party—being organized by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees plan to "entertain 60 children out of several hundred classed as 'eligible' by the bureau."

Mrs. Edith Frankham, supervisor, said today it is likely a number of organizations are planning to hold parties and expressed the hope they would contact the Christmas Bureau.

"We have no wish to interfere," she said, "but we do have the names of all needy children listed and can help in avoiding duplications—that is our job."

IT WAS VACATED JUST IN TIME

A family of four had just moved out of this five-room cottage at Langford when fire of unknown origin whipped through and drew all available volunteers to fight the blaze at 3:45 a.m. Sunday. The building, owned by the proprietor of Jogindar Lumber, just across the street at 1080 Goldstream, was considered a total loss. Firemen stopped flames from spreading to a nearby shed. The lucky former residents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Christianson, are believed to have lost some household effects, left behind when they moved Saturday. — (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Small grandchild is just a quarter past two years old. Ideal age for small grandchild to make with bright saying of children, thus make idea for column.

Wonderful news indeed! Loose gear stowed away. Hatches battened down.

Small grandchild arrives.

"Greetings, small grandchild," I say. "I trust you are in good health?"

"No," says small grandchild.

"Have a chair, small grandchild," I say. "Stop running up and down the walls and be comfortable."

"No," says small grandchild.

"Enough of this kind of talk," I say. "Let us get down to business. Say a bright saying of children for the column Monday."

Small grandchild looks at me narrowly. "Money?" she says.

"I am shocked, small grandchild," I say, "to hear you mention so mercenary a matter as pecuniary recompense for services rendered. And in advance, at that," I say.

"How about," I repeat, "a bright saying of children?"

"Cookie?" says small grandchild.

"I do not believe," I say, "in eating between meals."

Now, how about a bright saying?"

"I am dead against drinking on an empty stomach,"

I say. "Drinking on an empty stomach leads to nothing but rack and also ruin. Please, small grandchild, just one bright saying of children?"

Aged Pedestrian 'Fair' After Traffic Accident

A 75-year-old pedestrian, Frederick Ashard, one of five people hurt in weekend traffic crashes, is in "fair" condition with concussion and a broken leg at Jubilee Hospital today.

Ashard, who lives at 3362 Whittier, was crossing Burnside west of Washington at 8:10 p.m. Saturday when he was in collision with a car driven by Lily Quan, 111 East Maddock.

Mrs. Catherine Carver, 53, of 2016 Queenston, was treated at Jubilee for a shoulder injury after the car in which she was riding collided with another car at Pandora and Blanshard at 5:34 p.m. Saturday.

The motorists were Frederick Carver Jr., of the same address, and George Simms, 1018 Pembroke.

MINOR INJURIES

Isabel Thieson, 32, of 1021 Cook, was treated at Jubilee for a leg injury after her car collided with one driven by Ethel Forbes, 1516 Redfern, at Cook and Fort at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

At Menzies and Simcoe, Sunday at 4:10 p.m., a car driven by John Andrew Ashdown, 431 Powell, struck James Harold Rule, 42, 1635 Chandler, who was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for rib and shoulder injuries.

Alvin Hoover, 3374 Brown, of HMCS-Ottawa, was treated at HMCS Naden Hospital for hand and arm injuries received when the car in which he was a passenger collided with one driven by George Lien, 151 Government, at 7 a.m. today.

Police said the driver of the first car was Robert McGrath, 3336 Wordsworth.

Tourist Council Asks Government For Assistance

The B.C. Government Travel Bureau has been asked to help establish a teletype network to help tourists reserve accommodation.

The request comes from the B.C. Tourist Advisory Council.

It wants the government to share half the costs of installing the system.

The system would enable areas to pool tourist enquiries and get a quick answer from other centres on reservations.

The Tourist Advisory Council also has asked the government to designate its forest districts by number rather than name.

The reason—many tourists are discouraged from entering areas where they hear of forest fires.

Fires this summer in the Kamloops forest district deterred tourists, although the blazes were many miles away from the populated areas.

HUNTER FINDS WAY OUT AFTER NIGHT IN WOODS

Gerrit Mol, 28, of 1258 Montrose, walked to safety Sunday morning in the Leechtown area after a cold, wet, miserable night in the woods.

He was not seen from 11 a.m. Saturday until Sunday morning, when he reached his friends as they were organizing a search.

While hunting a trail he had to work through a swamp and became wet to his armpits, but managed to light a fire when night fell, and made a bed of leaves.

He told friends the worst part of the whole experience was not being wet and hungry, but running out of cigarettes.

He is the fourth hunter to become lost in the Leechtown district this year.

BIG PROJECT SHELVED

One Block Trial On Lighted Trees

A proposal that the entire downtown Victoria area be decorated with lighted Christmas trees placed in sidewalk tubs has been postponed for this year at least and instead a one-block trial will be carried out.

Retail merchants' group of Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast meeting today decided there was not enough time left before Christmas to complete the whole project.

The group also sanctioned similar Christmas tree decorations on other blocks if merchants involved were willing to co-operate in a standardized arrangement of six trees to each block. Cost of each tree and tub was estimated at $31.

Plans should be made now, it was stated, for provision of electrical outlets for street decoration when the downtown underground wiring conversion is made.

It was also suggested that a letter be sent from the chamber to city council asking that parking meters be made operative during night shopping hours to provide store patrons with easier parking facilities.

Retired Bank Manager, 72, Dies Suddenly

Victor George Field, 72, retired Bank of Montreal manager, died suddenly here today. Born at Wellington, England, he was a member of the Masonic lodge of Winyard, Sask., Uplands Golf Club, and St. Matthias Church.

Surviving are the widow, Phyllis, at home; a sister, Mrs. F. P. W. Cowley, and nieces and nephews. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Hayward's.

Pearson Calls Off West Coast Visit

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson has called off a trip this week to the west coast.

"He feels he must stay in Ottawa for the session of Parliament," a Liberal official said today.

When Mr. Pearson planned his trip to address the annual convention of the B.C. party Nov. 24, the early Ottawa session had not been called.

It had been hoped Mr. Pearson would come to Victoria, although no definite plans had been made.

NEXT MONDAY

James Scott, national organizer of the Liberal party, will address the B.C. convention and also a nominating convention for the Esquimalt-Saanich federal riding to be held next Monday.

Mr. Scott will speak also at a lunch-time Victoria College students' meeting Nov. 23.

He will fulfill Mr. Pearson's mainland engagements, which include another university meeting.

DEAR ABBY

Up For Sale!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: On Oct. 5 I ran the following letter:

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year-old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband... I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own... a good allowance to do as he pleases and no question asked. I want a man between 20 and 40 who doesn't drink. I own four houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank... There is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work... and he can sleep as late as he pleases. I am sick of playing hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME.

Here are some of the replies:

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, a pre-med student, and crave the company of a mature woman. Love is only a state of mind. I know I could truly love a woman with her qualifications.

PRE-MED STUDENT.

DEAR ABBY: My client is interested in the party who signed herself "Just Plain Lonesome." He is a mature, responsible, 33-year-old citizen who will furnish character references. Please contact this office. NAME WITHHELD.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Just Plain Lonesome" she can have my husband. He's in his late 30's, likes to sleep, doesn't care for work, would appreciate a car and an allowance, would like to come and go as he pleases with no questions asked, and prefers women who are "not hard to get."

DEAR ABBY: We are not for sale, but we are for rent. There are seven of us who will offer "Lonesome" companionship at the rate of one per day.

TED, BOB G., RON, STEVE, DAN, BOB S., and ED.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Just Plain Lonesome" that I am her guy. I am also willing to lay all my cards on the table, so—

LET'S DEAL.

Colwood WI Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary

Minutes of the first meeting held in 1910 were read at recent tea held by the Colwood Women's Institute, marking its 50th anniversary. Among the special guests was Miss L. M. A. Savory, only charter member present.

Miss Savory recalled being present when first addition to Colwood Community Hall was built and told members that she was only charter member to attend meeting at which present improvements were planned. Miss Savory presented each member with corsages made by herself.

Sixteen members, dressed in clothes of that period, re-enacted the first meeting. Table decorations consisted of a wick lamp and flowers in vases that were used 50 years ago.

Mrs. T. Mossop took part of first president, the late Mrs. W. Bickford. Part of the secretary, the late Mrs. S.

Clark, was taken by Mrs. B. W. Parker.

Other life members present besides Miss Savory were Mrs. R. B. Murray, Mrs. Ernest Peatt, a past president, and Mrs. S. Vallis, another past president. Another special guest was Mrs. W. J. Neal, past secretary.

Songs were sung by Mrs. A. M. Parker, who has been secretary for the past 30 years. She also led a sing-song of tunes popular in 1910. She was dressed in an old-fashioned gown, loaned by Miss Savory.

Yellow, white and green were colors that decorated the huge birthday cake that centered the head table. Cake was donated by Mrs. Alex Turner.

Congratulatory telegrams, cards and letters were received from the provincial president, the provincial board and institutes in the surrounding areas.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Let's Take a Look At Our Personalities

Personality is so complex and so subtle and it has such a terrific effect on our happiness and success, that it seems we sometimes should investigate our own. We all have some characteristics which draw others to us and some which drive them away. What are a few of these in each category? Of course just plain friendliness has magic power to make others like us and seek us out. If we truly like people, we will be interested in what they are saying, what they are doing and what they are thinking. The attitude of "live and let live" is also an endearing characteristic. If you have this, you will not expect others to think just as you do or conduct their lives according to your individual pattern. This greatly increases the breadth and variety of your friendships and enriches your own experience.

Consistency in attitude toward others is important. If we act as though we are glad to see a person one day and as though we had never met him the next, he or she will not feel very secure in our friendship. In fact, after a few such encounters he will write the whole thing off. THEY DON'T KNOW

Often this inconsistency is due to not feeling well or to some nagging trouble or discouragement, but people do not know this.

What about the characteristics which repel others? Most of them are just the opposite of the happy traits I have mentioned. They include being self-centred and much more interested in our own conversation, thoughts and plans than in those of others; being critical and intolerant of others; spreading gloom with a pessimistic outlook, a continual recital of our troubles; and being inconsistent in our attitude towards others. Of course there are many other unpleasant characteristics which could be added to these, such as being argumentative. A good rousing argument among close friends is fun, but in our general contact with others it can be fatal to popularity.

I would like it if you would write to tell me what personality traits you find attractive and unattractive. In others, my 10-cent booklet "Your Bust" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. This booklet is informative on proper care of the bust and tells how to make your bust line more attractive.

Victoria Girl Married In Ontario Ceremony

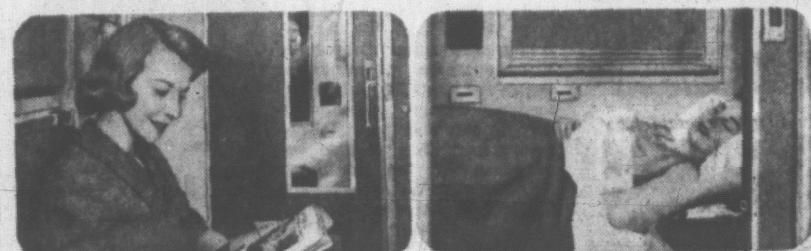

A double-ring ceremony recently united Miss Nora Christina Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wolfe of Victoria, and Robert Stanley Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barber of Belleville, Ont., in Bridge Street United Church in Belleville. Chrysanthemums, white gladioli and fern were arranged in large white stands at altar and white satin bows marked guest pews. Rev. H. M. Davis conducted the ceremony assisted by Rev. Robert Sherwin. Church organist, S. Alec Gordon, played processional and recessional music by Purcell. Miss Muriel Johnson sang "O Perfect Love" and "A Wedding Benediction." The bride wore floor-length gown of white taffeta appliqued with lace and sequins. Fitted bodice had a portrait neckline and lily point sleeves. Heirloom chapel veil was held with small sequined cap. Cascade bouquet of a golden-throated orchid surrounded with stephanotis and ivy completed the ensemble. Mr. Wolfe gave his daughter in marriage. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. A. G. Courtenay, Ottawa. She wore gown of peacock blue peau de soie in waltz-length and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and tiny bronze chrysanthemums. Flower girl, little Miss Penny Barber, niece of the groom, wore a frock styled similarly to Mrs. Courtenay's in bright turquoise, and carried a nosegay of Johanna Hill roses and stephanotis. Willett J. Barber was best man for his brother. Dr. Ralph MacMillan came from Toronto and A. G. Courtenay from Ottawa to be ushers. For a motor trip to New York City bride donned a dark grey walking suit with Persian lamb lining. Accessories were green and black and corsage was of white orchids. Upon return couple will live at R.R. 7 in Belleville, Ont.

DISOBEYED PUERTO RICO CHURCH

Mayor Must Do Penance

SAN JUAN (AP)—The Roman Catholic woman mayor of this Puerto Rican capital, Felisa de Gauthier, was ordered by her pastor to do public penance before she can receive communion because of the way she voted Nov. 8.

Rev. Thomas Maisonet, pastor of San Juan Cathedral, said in an interview between masses Sunday that the mayor must publicly repent by radio, television or newspaper to receive the church sacrament.

The mayor did not attend any of the five masses at the cathedral Sunday. She was reported to have spent the weekend at her beach cottage in Vega Baja and to have received communion at its church. She made no comment on Father Maisonet's demand.

Dona Felisa is a leading member of the Popular Democratic party opposed by Puerto Rico's Roman Catholic bishops as "un-Christian."

Governor Luis Munoz Marin, head of the party, was re-elected by a 58 per cent majority and the members retained control of the legislature, despite the bishops' warning that supporting them would be considered a sin.

Rhee Aide Escapes

TOKYO (AP)—Former president Syngman Rhee's home minister, Kyung Keun Chang, has escaped to Japan, a South Korean mission spokesman says. Chang made his getaway from a Seoul hospital while free on $3,000 bail in election-rigging charges. The spokesman said Chang had been arrested here and his return to South Korea is being sought.

U.S. Violinist Flips As Russ Cheer Wildly

MOSCOW (AP)—A cheering, shouting Russian audience Sunday night refused to let American violinist Joyce Flissler leave the stage after her second Moscow concert until she had played seven encores and taken 25 curtain calls.

"I've never heard such screaming in my life," said the blonde New Yorker. "It's really wonderful. It's fabulous to have such success. I'm flipped."

Miss Flissler scored a stunning success in her Moscow debut last Friday and the news spread quickly through the city's music colony.

RESCUE TEAM NEARS
MINER TRAPPED ALONE

TIMMINS, Ont. (UPI) — Rescue workers today broke through a hole in the rock and moved into the slope where a 27-year-old British immigrant, Alan Rose, has been trapped 1,700 feet underground and unable to move for the past 41 hours following a gold mine cave-in.

Rose has received no food and water. He is believed to be within 100 feet of the break-through hole.

The young miner spoke through a tiny air hole to his rescuers at 9 a.m. (EST) today.

Arena Manager Resigns;
Board Member Walks Out

3-Month Delay
Angers Haddock

By JOHN MIKA

A Memorial Arena commission meeting this morning was shattered by two resignations — by manager Joe Dukowski and by commission member Courtney Haddock.

A cryptic statement released by commission chairman F. G. Mulliner after the meeting did not say whether or not Mr. Dukowski's resignation had been accepted.

Mr. Haddock, serving his second term on the commission, walked out of the meeting about 20 minutes after it started at 9 a.m.

"I will send my resignation reached for comment."

to the next meeting of city council," he said. "I don't agree with the commission's philosophy at all."

Mr. Haddock said he was resigning in protest against a qualification in Mr. Dukowski's resignation which would allow him to remain for three months.

Mr. Dukowski could not be reached for comment.

Full Statement Being Prepared

Mr. Mulliner declined to elaborate on the commission's initial statement. He said a "full statement is in process of being prepared and will be released at a later time."

Mayor Percy Scurrell said he had no comment because the incident was an "internal matter" for the commission. City council's arena sub-committee chairman Ald. Hugh Ramsay said he could not comment until he knew some details behind the events. He added he could not understand why the arena commission had not kept the committee informed.

The meeting was arranged to decide the commission's next move after having heard six former employees' complaints against Mr. Dukowski at a closed hearing last week. The six had resigned within the period of one week in October — touching off a controversy that created debate, but no action, in city council.

Mr. Haddock said Mr. Dukowski was "given the opportunity of resigning" when the meeting opened. He said Mr. Dukowski tendered his resignation effective three months from now and the commission accepted.

"I think that's all wrong because so long as he is there it means the other six can't come back to their jobs. They have been good employees. Dukowski is going anyway so why prevent them from getting their jobs back."

"I'd rather see Mr. Dukowski paid for three or even six months but let go now."

"I'm certainly disappointed with the other commissioners. But then I've been fighting a lone battle on this from the start."

Ex-Employees To Be Considered

Mr. Haddock declined to make any comment on the subject matter of the hearing. Mr. Mulliner said the rest of the commission — W. F. Pinfold, W. D. Osborn and G. I. Warren, with F. L. Shaw as a non-voting "adviser" — had shown no indication of resigning.

A commission's statement released by Mr. Mulliner implied that Mr. Dukowski tendered his resignation before the hearing. It said: "Resulting from the resignations submitted by the six permanent and casual employees of the Victoria Memorial Arena and subsequent thereto the resignation of the arena's manager, Mr. Dukowski, a thorough examination was made by the commissioners of the contributing circumstances."

"In this connection the individual statements were reviewed following which it was

GALE WINDS
FORECAST
TONIGHT

Gale winds of up to 35 miles per hour will hit Victoria tonight with the approach of a new and active storm from the Pacific, weatherman William Mackie predicted today.

"It was at the weather ship this morning," he said. "The bottom fell out of the barometer. Winds were up to 68 miles per hour."

Cloud will thicken tonight; rain will follow.

Temperatures, which dropped low enough at high levels Sunday to give a dusting of snow on the Malahat and Sooke hills, will remain between 40 and 48 degrees to night and Tuesday.

First Storm
Of Winter
Lashes B.C.

(Times News Services)
British Columbia and the U.S. northwest were recovering today from the effects of the season's first winter storm.

Many centres were covered in snow, while north-central B.C. was whipped by record winds.

Four persons are dead in B.C. as a direct result of the storm and two more are missing.

Two hunters were drowned when their boats capsized in storm-tossed waters and two others were killed when a tree was uprooted and crushed their station wagon.

A third pair is missing on a hunting expedition and believed drowned.

The dead: John Taylor, 48, of suburban North Vancouver, washed off his overturned boat on Harrison Lake, 30 miles east of here, by a huge wave after his companion, Ronald Neff, 20, of Vancouver, held him up for three hours.

George M. Dibbille, 32, drowned in Tofino Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island on a goose hunting trip when his car-top boat was swamped. (See story Page 9.)

FATHER, SON DIE

Charles Fletcher, and his son Allan, 13, of nearby Richmond, killed when a tree measuring four feet at the butt was blown down on their car on the Squamish Highway near here. The driver of the car, John Klassen of Vancouver, was injured.

Missing are Bernard Stanley Eingley, 49, and his son Bernard, 23, both of Vancouver, whose 10-foot punt used for duck hunting has been recovered in nearby Stevenson. A smaller punt they had with them has not been found and a full-scale search for the pair was started Sunday.

The Hope-Princeton Highway, 100 miles east of Vancouver, was deep in snow. Transports took five hours to grind along the mountainous

ONE INCH FROM DEATH

Bullet Parts
Hunter's Hair

By DON INGHAM

A high-powered rifle bullet fired by a hunter in the Sooke district Saturday put two holes in a hard hat worn by Sooke logger Tom Nelson, parted his hair slightly, and ruined his digestion for most of the day.

"I'm still all tightened up," he said a few hours after the incident. "I guess it was an accident. I don't have any enemies that I know of."

The incident occurred at about 10:30 a.m. in the vicinity of Elder Logging operations. "I found a deer run, then sat down and lit a cigarette," said Nelson, 51-year-old boom man for Moore-Whittington Ltd. and resident at 22 Maple Avenue in Sooke.

'HEARD CRACK'

"I had a couple of puffs, and as I lifted my hand for another, my hard hat fell into my lap and I heard the crack of a rifle."

"Before my hat stopped rolling I was on my feet and swinging my rifle."

'COULDN'T PULL'

"A fellow in a red and yellow jacket was running for the brush about 100 yards away, across a clearing. I took a bead on his shoulder, then couldn't pull the trigger. By the time I'd shifted my aim to his rifle, so I could shoot

EUGENE, Ore. (CP) — A car plunged off a rain-swept highway Sunday into Dexter Lake and a man and his pregnant wife and their five children drowned, state police said today.

Skiddivers found the car with four bodies inside. The car was dragged from the lake and those inside identified as Howard R. Lemons, 39; his wife, Gloria, 35; and two of their children, Virginia, 7, and Michael, 4.

Searchers later found the body of another child, Howard Jr., 6. Police said the other Lemons children who drowned were Robin Ann, 8, and John, 16 months. Their bodies were not recovered immediately.

'IKE NOT REPUDIATED'

Johnson Backs
NATO Policies

PARIS (AP) — Vice-President-elect Lyndon Johnson told legislators from Atlantic Alliance countries today that the United States stands by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies.

Johnson said the U.S. election in no way was "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

The tall Texas senator was applauded as he strode into the assembly room of the parliamentary conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. His speech drew cheers from the legislators drawn from all over Western Europe and Canada.

French Premier Michel Debre, who spoke just before Johnson, disclaimed any attempt on the part of President de Gaulle to weaken NATO. On the contrary, Debre said, it was de Gaulle's idea to strengthen NATO by increasing the French "weight" in the organization.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, called for a NATO pool of atomic weapons giving all members essentially an equal voice in control.

The NATO commander also urged that medium-range ballistic missiles, both land and sea-based, be made available to NATO as part of a modernization program.

ARRIVE TUESDAY FOR TRAINING

No Fanfare for Eskimos

Western Canada's football champions, the Edmonton Eskimos, arrive in Victoria Tuesday afternoon for five training sessions before meeting Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday in the Grey Cup classic at Vancouver.

It appeared they would have a quiet reception from the city, in contrast to the enthusiastic greeting they were given in 1955 when they came here for training before whipping Montreal Alouettes in Vancouver.

The Eskimos — almost the same team that was here five years ago — will arrive at Patricia Bay airport at 2 p.m. Tuesday aboard a chartered airliner.

They will go immediately to the Empress Hotel and change into football gear for their first practice session at MacDonald Park on Simcoe between Oswego and Montreal. It is understood that most of their workouts will be open to the public.

City parks administrator W. H. Warren, who wired the team an invitation to use MacDonald Park, said he was told there would be morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday and Thursday before the WIFU champions leave for their date in Empire Stadium.

Last time the team was here it was greeted at the airport by a cheering crowd of about 3,000 Victorians and the city took the team to its heart immediately.

Training sessions in Royal Athletic Park were attended by thousands. The team was treated to free golf, fishing trips, tours and a tour of HMCS Crescent.

This time, some team members will be invited to the "Little Grey Cup" game Wednesday at 8 p.m. when the Victoria All-Stars and Winnipeg Rams meet in Royal Athletic Park for the Canadian juvenile football championship.

But no football plans were made at City Hall for an organized reception.

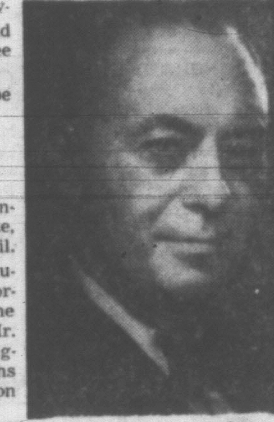

Some hunters w'd shoot at th' horns of a dilemma.

Minds, purses an' schools hev t' be opened in the order.

Wonder if the arena roof wuz double-barrelled?

Today's Traffic Trouble Tip

BOTH HAVE RIGHTS

By AB KENT

The traffic light turns green, but who has right of way — straight-through or left turning traffic?

This is a recurring problem for many drivers, given the choice of holding up other cars while they yield to oncoming traffic, or take a chance on a smashup by "bulling through."

The question is sent in by R. C. Cleland, 2828 Bridge, and the problem is illustrated.

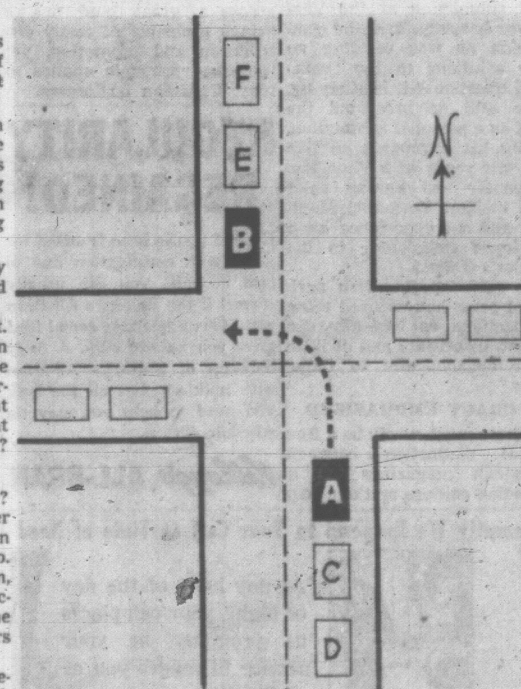

Car "A" wants to turn left. Should he hold up his own line while the opposing line headed by "B" clears the intersection, or dart out in front of "B" as soon as the light turns green, risking collision?

COMMON SENSE

Or should "B" yield to "A"? There is a simple answer that boils down to common sense, as most traffic laws do. Car "A" signals his turn, moves slowly into the intersection and allows "B" and one or two other south-bound cars to get clear.

It is then the duty of subsequent cars headed south to allow "A" to make his turn if it can be done in safety. For once "A" is into the intersection and signalling his left turn, he has right of way over traffic approaching the intersection.

So it turns out both drivers have their rights and responsibilities, a good rule to remember.

The driver must use utmost caution when approaching a pedestrian crossing, but on the other hand, pedestrians should not take advantage of the driver. He should have a fair chance and not have to contend with people jumping suddenly off the curb.

Cuba to Push Canada Trade?

Shooting Incident in Havana Involves American Embassy Worker

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, mocking the United States trade embargo against Cuba, declared Sunday his government is about to begin trading "in a big way" with Canada.

Raul, the younger brother of Premier Fidel Castro, said Cuba has been winning its economic battle with the U.S. and President Eisenhower's dispatch of warships to the Caribbean "unmasks United States puppets in Central America."

He said the embargo on all exports to Cuba except foodstuffs and medicines has failed so soundly "that we are about to begin trading in a big way very close to them (the U.S.)—we are referring to Canada." He did not elaborate.

The younger Castro told his audience of petroleum workers that Eisenhower's order of last young U.S. Embassy clerk by a Cuban army captain during a scuffle outside a Havana night-club.

Wayne Henderson, 22, of Pasadena, Calif., a communications clerk in the embassy, was seriously wounded Saturday night. His condition was described as satisfactory after a 2½-hour operation for the removal of the bullet, which entered his body near the hip.

There were conflicting versions of the shooting. Cuban police said the shooting by Capt. Jorge Robreno was accidental. They gave this account:

Henderson went nightclubbing with another American, Marine Cpl. William E. Tompkins, 20, of Warren, Ohio. He presented a $5 American bill to pay the cheque but the cashier refused to accept it on the suspicion it might be counterfeit. The cashier demanded pesos. Henderson refused, calling pesos "Communist money."

THREE SCUFFLE
The management called an off-duty policeman, who asked Henderson to go with him to the police station. Outside the night club the two Americans began scuffling with the policeman. Robreno, who had followed the trio out, drew his .45 pistol in an attempt to halt the fight and it went off accidentally.

Although the Cuban police version attached no blame to Robreno, he is being held in La Cabana military prison.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said Henderson had resorted to violence only after being pushed by the Cuban policeman and then was shot by another Cuban who walked up with a drawn pistol.

Foreign Trade In News

By JACK LEFLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Foreign trade — with its many problems and vast opportunities — held the spotlight in the United States business world last week.

Businessmen and politicians were worried by the continuing adverse balance of payments — the difference between what the U.S. imports and what it exports, spends abroad for military purposes and gives away.

President Eisenhower took steps to cut down the outflow by about $1,000,000,000 a year. He ordered federal agencies to pare their spending overseas and to "Buy American" when possible, in purchasing goods for shipment to underdeveloped countries.

The president also directed that the number of military personnel's dependents overseas be reduced by 248,000 to slow down the spending of U.S. dollars.

ENTER EXCITING ERA

H. E. Humphreys Jr., chairman of the United States Rubber Co., told the national foreign trade convention here: "Abroad we are entering on an era of trade which promises to become more exciting and challenging as each year passes. We are seeing the beginning of an explosion in business overseas."

Domestic business continued to struggle against the cross-currents which have been swirling for months. One encouraging development was a new high for personal income in October for the eighth straight month.

A survey by the national industrial conference board indicated consumers are planning greater purchases of expensive items such as new cars, furniture, dishwashers, refrigerators and other appliances.

Industrial production remained steady in October at 107 per cent of the 1957 average.

Automobile sales and production figures looked good but the heavy inventories in dealers' hands dimmed the outlook.

New car sales for the first 10 days of November set a record for the period, totalling 180,000 U.S. models. This was 2 1/2 per cent ahead of early October.

However, the inventory of new, unsold domestic cars reached an estimated 918,000 on Nov. 1, a record for the date. Because of its big inventory, Chrysler Corp. announced it would shut down three assembly plants for the U.S. Thanksgiving week.

Steel production continued to slip, edging down to 51.4 per cent of capacity from 51.5 last week. Bethlehem Steel Corp. closed four more open hearths at its Lackawanna works in Buffalo. This left 13 of 35 furnaces working.

Canada's Foreign Debt 'Frightening'

LONDON (CP) — The Times says Canada's load of foreign debt now is "almost frightening."

The newspaper's financial editor discusses measures outlined Thursday in the speech from the throne in the Canadian Parliament to encourage greater Canadian participation in the ownership and control of Canadian industry and resources.

"When one looks at the figures . . .," says The Times, "one wonders whether or not it is not already too late."

"Not only is a large slice of Canadian industry under foreign control, but the weight of foreign debt has mounted year by year."

The newspaper quotes an "impressive" speech by James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, in the same vein, and adds: "Yet it was precisely on this issue — the need to curb excessive foreign influences — that the present Canadian government received such remarkable support when it first came to office."

ROY THOMSON BIDS FOR TOP IRISH PAPER

BELFAST (Reuters) — Roy Thomson, Canadian newspaper publisher, is negotiating to take over the Belfast Telegraph, Northern Ireland's only evening newspaper, it was learned Friday.

The Telegraph has a circulation of about 195,000 — the highest in Northern Ireland.

The purchase price is estimated at between £1,800,000 and £2,000,000.

Thomson controls about 70 daily and weekly newspapers in Britain, Canada and the United States and recently acquired newspaper interests in Nigeria.

B.C. Pulp Prices Cut Up to 10%

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for British Columbia's multi-million dollar pulp industry confirmed Thursday that pulp prices have been cut by amounts ranging up to 10 per cent in face of weakening U.S. demand, the industry's biggest market.

B.C.'s $250,000,000 pulp and paper industry employs about 6,000 people. Newsprint is not affected by the price cut.

The weakening in the demand for pulp has hit the industry at a time when plywood production is running about 25 per cent below year ago levels and when the North American market is severely depressed.

All producers of bleached sulphate and sulphite pulp are believed to be affected by the price drop, initiated by U.S. west coast producers earlier this week.

The weakness in the U.S. domestic market was attributed by one industry spokesman to a weakness in some sections of the U.S. fine-paper industry.

Canadian Wheat Going to Burma

RANGOON (AP) — The Canadian government has agreed to supply Burma with wheat worth $350,000 on a grant basis under the Colombo Plan, it was officially announced here.

An exchange of notes between the two governments stipulates the sales proceeds of the commodity will be used for economic development projects within Burma.

The agreement is the third of its kind between the two countries. Last year Canada granted Burma commodity aid totalling $850,000.

His new appointment in Toronto is effective Jan. 1.

WEEK ON MARKETS

Lack of Volume, Note of Caution

By GREG MACDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A lack of volume and a note of caution; a slowdown following the U.S. presidential election flareup; plus a lack of business here mixed well — these added up to a stopper on Canadian stock markets last week.

The Toronto market dropped in all four index sections and volume was "exasperatingly low," as one broker put it.

Oil refineries saw some spotty actions in British American and Imperial Oil. In pipeline, Interprovincial struck a new high on company news that it expected a sharp increase in daily crude oil delivery this month. Papers acted on news that the industry had its best output of newsprint this year in October.

Manufacturers were active but most issues suffered minor losses. Liquors were fairly active.

Banks were lower on the week with the exception of Toronto-Dominion Bank which rose slightly. Steels were unusually quiet and so were foods. Construction and motor stocks were lower.

GOLD GLITTER FADES

The gold glitter faded during the week as shown by the decline of the price of the Canadian gold kilo bar to slightly above the official U.S. figure of $35 an ounce.

At the close Friday it was quoted at $35 to $35.25.

Base metals failed to do much of anything and were down slightly more than a point on index.

Western oils lost nearly two points and were exceptionally quiet with Canadian Devonian being the only active issue. It continued to carry on last week's activity which began when the company announced it wanted to sell.

Oils Show Loss In Quiet Trade

An irregular pattern emerged from morning and early afternoon trading on North American exchanges today, with Wall Street recording light gains while Toronto fell off.

Business was light and what little gains were shown, in base metals for example, were offset by declines in Western oils and a section of the industrial listings.

AT TORONTO Universal Products led industrial losers down 1/4 at 14 1/2. Investors Syndicate A dropped 2 1/2 at 30 1/2, while Canada Malt lost 2 points at 56. Bank of Montreal and Burns Co., each declined a point at 54 1/2 and 12 1/2. BA Oil was down 1/4 at 27 1/2.

Canada Breweries led winners with a 1-point gain at 42. General Motors and Investors Syndicate each gained 1/4 at 41 1/2 and 43.

Base metals continued strong while western oils were weak with Calgary and Edmonton off 1/4 at 13 1/2 and Home Oil A down 20 cents at $7.90.

AT MONTREAL prices were higher this afternoon and after following a downward trend in earlier trading. Trading was light.

Howard Smith at 35 rose one point to lead winners. Losers were led by B.A. Oil, down 1 1/2 at 27. Canadian Bank of Commerce at 54 1/2 eased 1/2.

In mines, Noranda rose 1/4 at 41. Aluminium at 29 1/2 was off 1/2 and Consolidated Smelters at 19 eased 1/2.

AT NEW YORK an irregular rise was seen late this afternoon as trading quietened. Eastman Kodak was up a couple of points, International Business Machines more than 3.

General Motors eased, U.S. Steel dropped a fraction and U.S. Gypsum fell more than 2. Dome Mines gained 1/2 on the Canadian list and International Nickel 1/4.

AT LONDON trading was generally cautious and irregular today but industrial shares showed improvement after a slow start.

Motor shares were fairly active with Ford firm in advance of today's decision by the Chancellor of the Exchequer concerning the American bid for full takeover of British Ford.

Gold shares were dull but the copper trend was higher as other base metal shares improved.

Neglected oil shares were mainly lower.

The Vancouver Island juvenile football championship belongs to Campbell River today and that gets a philosophical nod of approval from the vanquished.

Campbell River's Raiders, handing Oak Bay Police its first blanking in two years, 13-0, claimed the title Sunday. Victory gave Raiders the two-game, total-point Island round 32-20.

Oak Bay won the first game of the series 20-19 the previous week.

"We can't make any excuses," said Oak Bay manager Jack Groves. "The boys were beaten by a better team today."

And they couldn't have been beaten by a nicer team. "Campbell River's victory will be a big boost for the island entries as well as for the league."

STOP END RUNS. Coach Bud Hampson's Raiders, smoothly handled by quarterback Brian Taylor, rolled up all their points in the first half. They found a perfect defence for Oak Bay's dangerous end sweeps and took full advantage of a poor blocking display by the Police team.

Halfback Ross Konde grabbed a short swing pass from Taylor and scooted 17 yards in the opening quarter for Campbell River's first major Sunday.

Raiders made it 12-0 in the second quarter when tackle Ian Sellers fell on a loose ball in Oak Bay's zone after blocking Brian Usher's attempted kick.

A 35-yard single by fullback Ed Dedford wrapped up scoring shortly before the half.

BIG FOUR. Taylor, Dedford, Konde and halfback Kenny Kajawara sparked Campbell River's attack on the slippery field.

Kajawara is one of two up-island players who will side with the Victoria All-Stars when they meet Winnipeg Rams in Wednesday's "Little Grey Cup" game at Royal Athletic Field.

End Bob Chataway of Nanaimo will also play with the All-Stars, whose lineup was announced Sunday night. Nine players from Victoria Vampires and 22 from Oak Bay round out the squad.

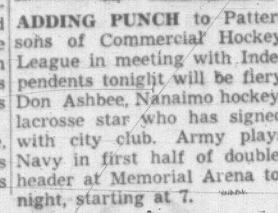

All-Stars' lineup: Quarterbacks: John Ward (OB), Brian Righty (V); fullbacks: Jack Heath (OB), Brian Smead (OB); halfbacks: Ken Kajawara (OB), Graham Harvey (OB); Murray Pasack (OB), Brian Liber (OB); Dan Taylor (V); centres: Al Foster (OB), Gord Giesbrecht (V); guards: Charlie Guernsey (V), Ken Smith (OB); Bob Clark (OB); tackles: Eric Evans (OB), Ray Tillyer (OB); Dennis McKay (V); ends: Joe Mergens (OB), Terry Cox (OB), Bryan Gray (OB), Jim Blakes (OB), Ron Morgan (OB); CFB Burnett (V); Bob Chataway (V); linebackers: Pat Adams (OB), Art Bohlen (OB); John Doherty (V); alternates: Barry Neil (V), Keith King (V), Gary Wilson (OB), Barry Shepherd (OB).

Nanaimo Prefers Stronger Rivals

NANAIMO—Earl Robinson scored four goals Saturday night to lead Nanaimo Labatts to a 14-5 romp over Chilliwack in their Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey League game.

Following the game disgusted Nanaimo officials said they would refuse to play the outclassed Chilliwack team again. The mainland club has given up about 70 goals this season.

In Saturday's other game, New Westminster Luckies and Powell River Regals played to a 6-6 tie.

ADDING PUNCH to Patterson's Commercial Hockey League in meeting with Independents tonight will be fiery Don Ashbee, Nanaimo hockey-lacrosse star who has signed with city club. Army plays Navy in first half of double-header at Memorial Arena tonight, starting at 7.

IT WAS VACATED JUST IN TIME

A family of four had just moved out of this five-room cottage at Langford when fire of unknown origin whipped through and drew all available volunteers to fight the blaze at 3.45 a.m. Sunday. The building, owned by the proprietor of Jogindar Lumber, just across the street at 1080 Goldstream, was considered a total loss. Firemen stopped flames from spreading to a nearby shed. The lucky former residents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Christianson, are believed to have lost some household effects, left behind when they moved Saturday. — (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Gloomy Sunday. No column idea for Monday.

Suddenly, wonderful news! Small grandchild is coming for visit!
Small grandchild is just a quarter past two years old. Ideal age for small grandchild to make with bright saying of children, thus make idea for column.

Wonderful news indeed!
Loose gear stowed away. Hatches battened down. Small grandchild arrives.

"Greetings, small grandchild," I say. "I trust you are in good health?"

"No," says small grandchild.

"Have a chair, small grandchild," I say. "Stop running, up and down the walls and be comfortable."

"No," says small grandchild.

"Enough of this kind of talk," I say. "Let us get down to business. Say a bright saying of children for the column Monday."

Small grandchild looks at me narrowly. "Money?" she says.

"I am shocked, small grandchild," I say, "to hear you mention so mercenary a matter as pecuniary recompense for services rendered. And in advance, at that," I say.

"How about," I repeat, "a bright saying of children?"

"Cookie?" says small grandchild.

"I do not believe," I say, "in eating between meals. Now, how about a bright saying?"

"Milk?" says small grandchild.

"I am dead against drinking on an empty stomach," I say. "Drinking on an empty stomach leads to nothing but rack and also ruin. Please, small grandchild, just one bright saying of children?"

"No money?" says small grandchild.

"No."

"No cookie?"

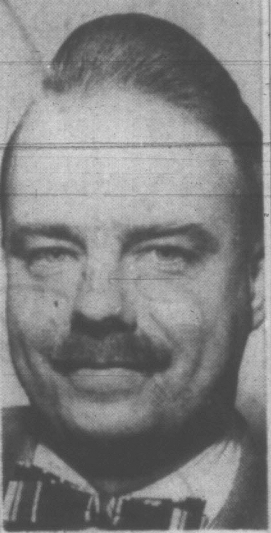

"No."

"No milk?"

"No."

"No bright saying of children," says small grandchild.

Gloomy Sunday. No column idea for Monday.

SECRETARY OF 'CHEST' RESIGNS

RESIGNATION OF A. G. Gilmore, executive secretary of the Greater Victoria Community Chest, was announced today at a meeting of the Chest's board of directors at the YMCA. Mr. Gilmore said he is resigning for personal reasons. He has held the position since March, 1957. Eric Mallet, Chest president, said he knew of no person who had contributed more to the Chest in the last few years than Mr. Gilmore. His resignation is effective Dec. 31.

Double Lock, Door Thwarts Burglary

Someone who poleaxed the front door of Pacific Brewers warehouse at 450 Catherine overnight Sunday failed to get past its double lock and heavy woodwork.

A police patrol found the attempt to smash in—and the axe that was used—at 5.20 a.m.

The door was badly chopped and locks were jammed by the blows, detectives reported.

In other weekend burglaries, more than $100 worth of cash, goods and fresh fruit were stolen.

ADMITTS THEFT

Eighteen-year-old George R. James, of Victoria, pleaded guilty in city police court to stealing $30 from a sleeping man's trousers Saturday evening.

Lum Koon, 53½ Fisgard, told police a man came into his apartment, awakened him, took the money, then ran off.

The complainant followed, had words with the intruder and was later able to identify him for police, who picked up James Sunday.

At first James told police he just borrowed the money and gave back $4 of it Sunday. He admitted later he had stolen the cash.

At Wimpy's Cafe, 937 Yates, a thief forced a rear window, took money from pinball and cigarette machines and stole a $35 razor and $30 radio.

FRUIT STOLEN

Twenty dollars cash, unemployment insurance books and stamps contained in a cash box were taken from Dave Lewis Cartage, 842 Cormorant, by a burglar who broke a rear window.

At the provincial government Douglas Building, glass was smashed in a cafeteria door, money was taken from a cigarette machine and an attempt was made to open a cash register using tools taken from the kitchen.

A half case of oranges and grapes were missed by proprietor Low Long, 817 North Park, when his produce shed was broken into.

1,262 NEEDY CITY CHILDREN COULD BE MADE OH SO HAPPY

Is anybody planning a Christmas party for underprivileged children?

The Christmas Bureau has 1,262 such children on its books, yet to date they know of only one party—being organized by Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees plan to entertain 60 children out of several hundred classed as "eligible" by the bureau.

Mrs. Edith Frankham, supervisor, said today it is likely a number of organizations are planning to hold parties and expressed the hope they would contact the Christmas Bureau.

"We have no wish to interfere," she said, "but we do have the names of all needy children listed and can help in avoiding duplications—that is our job."

Big Boost in Payload For Newest B.C. Ferry

Room for 400 More Passengers

The B.C. Government's third, new ferry will have space for 1,000 passengers, ferry manager Monty Aldous said today.

The Sidney and Tsawwassen, the vessels now in service between Swartz Bay and the mainland, carry 600 passengers.

Mr. Aldous said the new, unnamed ferry to be built next year, will have the same overall dimensions as her sister ships.

"But there will be more passenger space available.

"Vehicle space will remain the same.

Sidney and Tsawwassen carry 110 cars.

Mr. Aldous said he was unable to disclose where the extra passengers space will be found.

PLANS INCOMPLETE

Detailed plans and specification still are incomplete, he said.

However, the toll authority, the government agency which runs the service, has advertised that tenders will be called soon. It is expected the call for bids will be early in December.

Toll authority secretary Dr. J. V. Fisher said today:

"The plans will be fully available by the end of the month."

He said notice is to give shipyards plenty of time to prepare bids on the ferry, which Premier W. A. C. Bennett says will look and cost approximately the same as her sisters. They cost $3,000,000 each.

Mr. Aldous said actual number of passengers carried depends on terms of a Canadian Steamship Inspection licence.

The CSI licence for Sidney and Tsawwassen is for 600 passengers although they could carry more, he said.

They couldn't hold anything like 1,000, he added.

Local shipyards are expected to be keen bidders on the new vessel. Mr. Sidney was built by Victoria Machinery Depot, while Tsawwassen was built in Vancouver by Burrard Drydock.

Move by U.S. Would Hit City Stores

Retail trade group of the Chamber of Commerce today expressed concern over speculation that the U.S. government may cut out customs exemptions to U.S. citizens returning with Canadian-bought merchandise.

Robert Thompson, group chairman, commented following reports from Washington, D.C., the move was contemplated.

The matter was discussed at a breakfast meeting of the group today, but no further action was taken pending clarification.

Walter Dodsworth, chairman of the tourist trade group, said earlier government cuts could spell the end for Government Street specialty stores that cater largely to tourists.

The suggestion the allowance might be eliminated came from U.S. government sources, based on a move to protect the country's dollar reserves.

U.S. tourists can now take home goods valued at $10 if they have been out of the U.S. one day; $200 if out over 48 hours and $500 if they have been away five days.

NEW B.C. FERRY will look like sister ship Sidney, pictured above, but will carry 1,000 passengers instead of 600.

Aged Pedestrian 'Fair' After Traffic Accident

A 75-year-old pedestrian, Frederick Ashard, one of five people hurt in weekend traffic crashes, is in "fair" condition with concussion and a broken leg at Jubilee Hospital today.

Ashard, who lives at 3362 Whittier, was crossing Burnside west of Washington at 8.10 p.m. Saturday when he was in collision with a car driven by Lily Quan, 111 East Maddock.

Mrs. Catherine Carver, 53, of 2916 Queenston, was treated at Jubilee for a shoulder injury after the car in which she was riding collided with another car at Pandora and Blanshard at 5.34 p.m. Saturday.

The motorists were Frederick Carver Jr., of the same address, and George Simms, 1018 Pembroke.

MINOR INJURIES

Isabel Thieson, 32, of 1021 Cook, was treated at Jubilee for a leg injury after her car collided with one driven by Ethel Forbes, 1516 Redfern, at Cook and Port at 10.05 a.m. Sunday.

At Menzies and Simcoe, Sunday at 4.10 p.m., a car driven by John Andrew Ashdown, 431 Powell, struck James Harold Rule, 42, 1635 Chandler, who was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for rib and shoulder injuries.

Alvin Hoover, 3774 Brownling, of HMCS Naden Hospital for hand and arm injuries received when the car in which he was a passenger collided with one driven by George Lien, 151 Government, at 7 a.m. today.

Police said the driver of the first car was Robert McGrath, 3336 Wordsworth.

Tourist Council Asks Government For Assistance

The B.C. Government Travel Bureau has been asked to help establish a teletype network to help tourists reserve accommodation.

The request comes from the B.C. Tourist Advisory Council.

It wants the government to share half the costs of installing the system.

The system would enable areas to pool tourist enquiries and get a quick answer from other centres on reservations.

The Tourist Advisory Council also has asked the government to designate its forest districts by number rather than name.

The reason—many tourists are discouraged from entering areas where they hear of forest fires.

Fires this summer in the Kamloops forest district deterred tourists, although the blazes were many miles away from the populated areas.

HUNTER FINDS WAY OUT AFTER NIGHT IN WOODS

Gerrit Mol, 28, of 1258 Montrose, walked to safety Sunday morning in the Leechtown area after a cold, wet, miserable night in the woods.

He was not seen from 11 a.m. Saturday until Sunday morning, when he reached his friends as they were organizing a search.

While hunting a trail he had to work through a swamp and became wet to his armpits, but managed to light a fire when night fell, and made a bed of leaves.

He told friends the worst part of the whole experience was not being wet and hungry, but running out of cigarettes.

He is the fourth hunter to become lost in the Leechtown district this year.

BIG PROJECT SHELVED

One Block Trial On Lighted Trees

A proposal that the entire downtown Victoria area be decorated with lighted Christmas trees placed in sidewalk

tubs has been postponed for this year at least and instead a one-block trial will be carried out.

Retail merchants' group of Chamber of Commerce at a breakfast meeting today decided there was not enough time left before Christmas to complete the whole project.

The group also sanctioned similar Christmas tree decorations on other blocks if merchants involved were willing to co-operate in a standardized arrangement of six trees to each block. Cost of each tree and tub was estimated at $31.

PERMANENT

The meeting also recommended that city council be approached to investigate permanent sidewalk planters which could be used throughout the year and then specially decorated at Christmas.

Plans should be made now, it was stated, for provision of electrical outlets for street decoration when the downtown underground wiring conversion is made.

It was also suggested that a letter be sent from the chamber to city council asking that parking meters be made operative during night shopping hours to provide store patrons with easier parking facilities.

Retired Bank Manager, 72, Dies Suddenly

Born at Wellington, England, he was a member of the Masonic lodge of Winyard, Sask., Uplands Golf Club, and St. Matthias' Church.

Surviving are the widow, Phyllis, at home; a sister, Mrs. F. F. W. Cowley, and nieces and nephews. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Hayward's.

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson has called off a trip this week to the west coast.

"He feels he must stay in Ottawa for the session of Parliament," a Liberal official said today.

When Mr. Pearson planned his trip to address the annual convention of the B.C. party Nov. 24, the early Ottawa session had not been called.

It had been hoped Mr. Pearson would come to Victoria, although no definite plans had been made.

NEXT MONDAY

James Scott, national organizer of the Liberal party, will address the B.C. convention and also a nominating convention for the Esquimalt-Saanich federal riding to be held next Monday.

Mr. Scott will speak also at a lunch-time Victoria College students' meeting Nov. 29.

First Storm Of Winter Lashes B.C.

(Times News Services)

British Columbia and the U.S. northwest were recovering today from the effects of the season's first winter storm.

Many centres were covered in snow, while north-central B.C. was whipped by record winds.

Four persons are dead in B.C. as a direct result of the storm and two more are missing.

Two hunters were drowned when their boats capsized in storm-tossed waters and two others were killed when a tree was uprooted and crushed their station wagon.

A third pair is missing on a hunting expedition and believed drowned.

The dead: John Taylor, 48, of suburban North Vancouver, washed off his overturned boat on Harrison Lake, 30 miles east of here, by a huge wave after his companion, Ronald Neff, 20, of Vancouver, held him up for three hours.

George M. Dibble, 32, drowned in Tofino Inlet on the west coast of Vancouver Island on a goose hunting trip when his car-top boat was swamped. (See story Page 9.)

7 Killed In Congo Battle

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — The Congolese army of Col. Joseph Mobutu launched a heavy attack tonight on United Nations troops guarding the residence of Ghana Charge d'Affaires Nathaniel Welbeck, who has defied an order to leave the Congo.

An unconfirmed report from inside the besieged residence said seven defenders were killed and seven others injured in the first hour of fighting.

The residence was held by Tunisian soldiers and Ghanaian riot police.

There was no indication of casualties on the Congolese side.

Fifty minutes after the firing broke out, about 500 Tunisian soldiers in trucks and jeeps rushed to the scene from their barracks and started to surround the Congolese attackers.

This was the first time in the capital that fighting had broken out between the Congolese army and the UN troops whose task is to maintain law and order in the country. The Congolese converged on the residence of Welbeck this afternoon after the Ghanaian diplomat refused to bow to Mobutu's order expelling him from the country.

Mobutu accused Welbeck of trying to engineer the return to power of Lumumba.

"It was at the weather shop this morning," he said. "The bottom fell out of the barometer. Winds were up to 68 miles per hour."

Cloud will thicken tonight; rain will follow.

Temperatures, which dropped low enough at high levels Sunday to give a dusting of snow on the Mahahat and Sooke hills, will remain between 40 and 48 degrees tonight and Tuesday.

'I GUESS IT WAS ACCIDENTAL'

Bullet Parts Hunter's Hair

By DON INGHAM

A high-powered rifle bullet fired by a hunter in the Sooke district Saturday put two holes in a hard hat worn by Sooke logger Tom Nelson, parted his hair slightly, and ruined his digestion for most of the day.

"I'm still all tightened up," he said a few hours after the incident. "I guess it was an accident. I don't have any enemies that I know of."

The incident occurred at about 10:30 a.m. in the vicinity of Elder Logging operations.

"I found a deer run, then sat down and lit a cigaret," said Nelson, 51-year-old boom man for Moore-Whittington Ltd. and resident at 22 Maple Avenue in Sooke.

'HEARD CRACK'

"I had a couple of puffs, and as I lifted my hand for another, my hard hat fell into my lap and I heard the crack of a rifle."

"Before my hat stopped rolling I was on my feet and swinging my rifle."

"A fellow in a red and yellow low jacket was running for the brush about 100 yards away, across a clearing. I took a bead on his shoulder, then couldn't pull the trigger. By the time I'd shifted my aim to his rifle, so I could shoot it out of his hands, he was in the brush and away."

"I walked back to my car and had a cup of coffee from my thermos, then darned if I didn't lose both my coffee and my breakfast. And my stomach muscles still feel sore," he said.

The bullet holes in his metal safety hat are five inches apart, and show clearly that a bullet had entered from the rear and come out at the front.

"I put a pencil through the holes, then put the hat on the

Wonder if the arena roof wuz double-barrelled?

Takes Effect In 3 Months

By JOHN MIKA

A Memorial Arena commission meeting this morning was shattered by two resignations — by manager Joe Dukowski and by commission member Courtney Haddock.

A cryptic statement released by commission chairman F. G. Mulliner after the meeting did not say whether or not Mr. Dukowski's resignation had been accepted.

Mr. Haddock, serving his second term on the commission, walked out of the meeting about 20 minutes after it started at 9 a.m.

"I will send my resignation to the next meeting of city council," he said. "I don't agree with the commission's philosophy at all."

IRKED BY DELAY

Mr. Haddock said he was resigning in protest against a qualification in Mr. Dukowski's resignation which would allow him to remain for three months.

Mr. Dukowski could not be reached for comment.

Mr. Mulliner declined to elaborate on the commission's initial statement. He said a "full statement is in process of being prepared and will be released at a later time."

SCURRAH SILENT

Mayor Percy Scurrell said he had no comment because the incident was an "internal matter" for the commission. City council's arena sub-committee chairman Ald. Hugh Ramsay said he could not comment until he knew some details behind the events. He added he could not understand why the arena commission had not kept the committee informed.

The meeting was arranged to decide the commission's next move after having heard six former employees' complaints against Mr. Dukowski at a closed hearing last week.

The six had resigned within the period of one week in October — touching off a controversy that created debate, but no action, in city council.

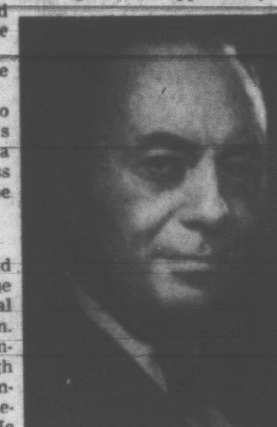

KEEPING SIX AWAY

Mr. Haddock said Mr. Dukowski was "given the opportunity of resigning" when the meeting opened. He said Mr. Dukowski tendered his resignation effective three months from now and the commission accepted.

"I think that's all wrong because so long as he is there it

"I'm certainly disappointed with the other commissioners. But then I've been fighting a lone battle on this from the start."

Mr. Haddock declined to make any comment on the subject matter of the hearing. Mr. Mulliner said the rest of the commission — W. F. Pinfold, W. D. Osborn and G. L. Warren, with F. L. Shaw as a non-voting "adviser" — had

No Fanfare for Eskimos

It appeared they would have a quiet reception from the city, in contrast to the enthusiastic greeting they were given in 1955 when they came here for training before whipping Montreal Alouettes in Vancouver.

The Eskimos — almost the same team that was here five years ago — will arrive at Patricia Bay airport at 2 p.m. Tuesday aboard a chartered

They will go immediately to the Empress Hotel and change into football gear for their first practice session at MacDonald Park, on Simcoe between Oswego and Montreal.

It is understood that most of their workouts will be open to the public.

City parks administrator W. H. Warren, who wired the team an invitation to use MacDonald Park, said he was told there would be morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday and Thursday before the WIFU champions leave for their date in Empire Stadium.

3,000 Victorians and the city took the team to its heart immediately.

Training sessions in Royal Athletic Park were attended by thousands. The team was treated to free golf, fishing trips, tours and a visit to the navy base for a tour of HMCS Crescent.

This time, some team members will be invited to the "Little Grey Cup" game Wednesday at 8 p.m. when the Victoria All-Stars and Winnipeg Rams meet in Royal Athletic Park for the Canadian juvenile football championship. But no immediate plans were made at City Hall for an
